ABANDON REMEDIAL NAVAL LEGISLATION!

LEGISLATORS ASK MONEY FOR VETS

California to Be Asked for Another $10,000,000 For Soldiers

BULLETIN SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9.—The Assembly of the California Legislature adjourned this afternoon to reconvene Monday at 1:30 p. m. The Senate adjourned until 11 a. m. Monday. Both Houses received Governor Richardson's message regarding acts of executive clemency. Assembly Bill No. 1, providing pay and expense money for the soldiers, was sent to the governor for immediate signature.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9.—The people of California will be asked to vote another $10,000,000 bond issue for the benefit of veterans of the World war if the program by the veterans' committee of the assembly is approved by the present legislature.

The soldiers and sailors' legislative committee, composed of the twenty-three assemblymen who served in the war, met last night and chose Assemblyman Edwin A. Muller of San Diego as chairman. The $10,000,000 bond issue is to be asked to continue the work being done by the state veterans' welfare board. The original $10,000,000 bond issue voted two years ago, is about exhausted, members of the committee stated today.

Home Building A number of changes are also to be sought in the veterans' welfare act. One will be to increase the amount that a veteran may borrow from the state for home building purposes from $5,000 to $6,000. Members stated that in the larger cities and towns it is "impossible to get any kind of home at all for $5,000."

Several amendments will be offered to facilitate the operation of the act.

$130,000 FEE FOR SLAYERS' DEFENSE

Leopold-Loeb Lawyers to Get That Amount With Bar's Endorsement

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—To defending Richard A. Loeb and Nathan Leopold, Jr., $130,000.

This is the bill, bearing the official stamp of approval of the Chicago bar association, which was ready today for presentation to the families of the youthful slayers of Bobby Franks.

The amount, at one time reported fixed at $150,000, was definitely decided upon at a conference of Defense Attorneys Clarence Darrow, Walter and Benjamin Bachrach and a bar association committee.

The responsibility of the case, the questions involved and the sentence—life and 99 years—warrant such a price," the bar association statement reads.

It was reported today that Darrow was to receive the lion's share, possibly as high as $100,000.

Dirigible Los Angeles Shoves Off for Trial

LAKEHURST, N. J., Jan. 9.—The dirigible Los Angeles shoved off from the mooring mast at the naval air station here today at 10:20 o'clock for a series of short flights in this vicinity.

Five trips were to be made today to give the crew practice in attaching and detaching the dirigible's nose to the mast. The dirigible was to return to the hangar at sundown. Included in the crew of forty-two men were eight members of the German crew which brought the former ZR-3 here from Friedrichshafen, Germany.

TUBERCULAR VICTIM

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 9.—Charles E. Hilgartner of Baltimore, Md., a son-in-law of Mm. Schumann-Heink, noted singer, died here today, a victim of tuberculosis.

Lewis Unable To Continue Work On Mat

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 9.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis is a broken man today, who for weeks will have to remain in bed and for months perhaps will be unable to raise himself to a sitting posture when lying down, nor to stand after once having been lifted off his back. If Lewis—in a year or eighteen months—is in shape so that he could wrestle, another spinal injury such as he suffered in the bout in which he lost his title last night with Wayne "Big Boy" Muniz, University of Nebraska, would in all probability prove fatal. This was the consensus of opinion of physicians who examined the former heavyweight wrestling champion at St. Luke's hospital at noon today.

HOLLYWOOD GIRL TIRED OF LUXURY

Wealthy Young Miss Runs Away From Home to See Real Life

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—Iris Bennett is going back to her Hollywood home and perhaps to the exclusive St. Mary's academy from which she ran away to see "life," but it is because she did not know her adventure would pain her mother so much and not because she has changed her views.

Iris, a pretty 15-year-old school girl tired of the luxury to which she has been accustomed, pawned her jewelry for ticket money, came to San Francisco and for four whole days led her own life, finding employment as a nurse girl.

Her frantic mother, Mrs. Susanne Bennett, followed her here and after a search found her in the new role as nurse maid. "There were no men in my adventure," Iris said today. "I just wanted to make something of myself, to earn my own education, and before I left the academy I vowed not to get mixed up with any strange men."

Ferryboat and Liquor Scout Collide In Bay

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—Several men were thrown overboard and one trans-bay ferry was so seriously damaged she had to be taken out of service when the Northwestern Pacific ferry Cazadero, on her 7:15 trip from this city to Sausalito, was struck squarely against her side while off the run runner chaser No. 256 off Angel island, in San Francisco bay today.

Nobody was reported injured and the members of the chaser who were thrown into the bay were all rescued. The entire superstructure of the smaller craft was said to have been demolished. The accident was caused by an excessively heavy tug fog hanging low over the bay.

Sterling Exchange In Rapid Rise on Market

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Sterling exchange continued its rapid advance in the New York market today and established a new high record since 1915, the year after Great Britain's entry into the World war.

Demand sterling was quoted at 4.78% and cables at 4.78%, an advance of 1/8% over Thursday's close and a gain of nearly 2c in less than a week.

Exchange on Norway established a new high since 1923, the Norwegian Krone being quoted at 15.31 for demand and 15.35 for cables, up 8 points.

Senate Delays Action On Stone's Bench Job

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The nomination of Attorney-General Harlan F. Stone, as justice of the supreme court, was held up today by the Senate judiciary subcommittee to which the appointment was referred.

Senator Sterling, Republican of South Dakota, chairman, declined to make any statement other than the committee considered the nomination but failed to act upon it.

JURY SCANDAL M'COY CASE CHARGES

Auto Salesman Indicted for 'Tampering,' Promising 'Big Money Talk'

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—Charged with communicating with Juror John J. Apfel, during the trial of Kid McCoy for the murder of his sweetheart, Teresa Mary Wilbur D. Campbell, Los Angeles automobile salesman, was indicted by the county grand jury here today. Officers, armed with warrants, were sent to arrest Campbell.

Campbell, who testified before the grand jury Tuesday, was accused in the indictment of telephoning to Juror Apfel during the trial before the case went to the jury.

Apfel is said to have told the grand jury, Campbell, who was an old acquaintance, sought to bribe him in a conversation concerning the McCoy case and to have hinted about "big money talk."

The indictment was the outcome of the jury's investigation of charges that attempts were made to tamper with the McCoy jury before it returned its verdict of manslaughter.

SOCIETY JARRED AT BUTLER TRIAL

Jury Deadlocked In Theft Charged to Servant of Mah Jongg Set

PACIFIC GROVE, Jan. 9.—The judicial battle of society versus the villagers and mansion versus cottage resulted in a draw. Admitting themselves hopelessly deadlocked, the jury that tried William McElroy, "old reliable," colored butler for the alleged theft of a mah jongg set, valuable trinkets, a mahogany desk, mid-Victorian muffs, antique ivory and a jewel box, was dismissed late last night.

Society was out in force to cheer Miss Ysabel Chase, who charged her former butler with looting her home and the tedious moments of waiting for a verdict were enlivened by a mah jongg game and a crap.

The jury stood seven to five. McElroy's defense was that the articles found in his home were Christmas gifts and other presents from Miss Chase.

Two Killed In Collision Of Motor Bus and Car

GALESBURG, Ill., Jan. 9.—Two were killed and two injured when a motor bus carrying ten persons skidded on an icy road and collided with a small touring car between this city and Monmouth today. The dead are: Everett Kissick and Harold McKnight, Burlington railway employees.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The death rate among prohibition officers is higher than that of the American army in the world war, Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon league, told the Senate judiciary committee today.

LEAPS TO DEATH

SEATTLE, Jan. 9.—After scribbling a note in which she expressed the feeling that she was losing her mind, Mrs. Louise Moore, 52, wife of C. C. Moore, prominent Wenatchee business man, leaped from the eighth floor of a hotel here today and was killed.

PENSION FUND

REPUBLICANS SPLIT OVER CLUB GOING INTO CITY POLITICS

Partisan Resolutions Cause Division In Executive Committee; Violation Of State Primary Law Is Seen

Proof that the attempt to drag the Glendale Republican club, as an organization, into municipal politics will result in a split and, perhaps, the ultimate wreck of the club, was produced at the meeting of the executive committee yesterday afternoon.

Resolutions considered by the executive committee resulted in a marked division of the committee. Five members voted in favor of resolutions having for their purpose the participation of the club in local politics, while four members of the committee voted against such action.

The resolutions provided that the questions shall be finally decided by all of the members of the club at a session to be held at the City Council chamber at the City Hall Thursday night, January 15, at 7:30 o'clock. Only members of the club, it was decided, shall be permitted to take part in the deliberations.

At the meeting of the executive committee, it was pointed out that when the call for organization of the Glendale Republican club was issued there was nothing said about participation in local politics.

Members of the committee also pointed out that the state primary law provides that candidates for city and county offices shall be non-partisan, meaning that a candidate's political affiliation does not enter into his qualifications for the position he seeks.

Now certain members of the Glendale Republican club, for reasons of their own, propose to use the Republican party—if permitted—in non-partisan politics, all of which is contrary to the election laws of the state of California and contrary to rules and regulations of the national, state and county Republican organizations. Glendale Maintains Lead In Building During 1924

The city of Glendale stands fifth in building in the Pacific southwest for the year 1924. This is a remarkable record—one of which every resident of Glendale may well feel proud. Not including the city of Los Angeles, Glendale takes fourth position. How's that?

An enormous building total was rolled up by the Pacific southwest for the calendar year 1924. Although it fell $55,000,000 short of the extraordinary total of 1923, it was $68,900,000 greater than that for 1922, which was also a year of great activity in construction. For 1924, sixty-six cities, including Los Angeles, report building aggregating $281,768,922. Sixty of these cities report for 1923 a total of $338,826,324. Sixty-five cities outside of Los Angeles report for 1924 a total of $131,621,406 and for 1923 fifty-nine cities outside Los Angeles reported $138,673,134.

Long Beach leads the cities outside of Los Angeles in building for 1924. San Diego is second, Pasadena third, Glendale fourth, Santa Monica fifth, Alhambra sixth and Beverly Hills seventh.

DEBT PARLEYS DELAYED BY SICKNESS

Leading French Economist Falls Ill; Hope for Early Termination

By FRANK E. MASON

PARIS, Jan. 9.—A conference on America's war claims was held today by Colonel James A. Logan, American observer on the reparations commission and Premier Herriot of France. Following the conference Colonel Logan informed United States Ambassadors Herriot and Kellogg and the progress of his "unofficial conversations."

Further conversations between Finance Minister Clement and Chancellor of the Exchequer Churchill of England were postponed until later because Clement and French experts were closeted with Herriot planning the French program for the remainder of the session.

The French delegation is being badly handicapped by the serious and sudden illness of Sydnoux, France's foremost economist and financial expert.

"I am optimistic that the conference will be successfully terminated early next week," Clement said.

"The Anglo-American differences of opinion regarding America's annual percentage through the Dawes plan is the only serious question outstanding. It is possible to do this because Brussels is now nearly paid up because of Belgian priority."

Having clearly stated the viewpoint of their respective governments in "unofficial conversations," both Colonel Logan and Churchill have telegraphed to their governments for additional instructions. Churchill told Colonel Logan, it was said, that he did not have sufficient authority to meet America's demands.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—There was no confirmation here today of the Berlin stock exchange rumor that Premier Mussolini had been assassinated. Italian circles discredited the rumor.

CRIPPLED 'PHONE OPERATOR HEROINE

Maine Employe Gives Life To Save Fellows In Maine Street Fire

BROOKS, Maine, Jan. 9.—Mrs. Carrie Johnson, crippled telephone operator, gave her life today in the service of her fellowmen. While fire swept down the main street, virtually wiping out the settlement, Mrs. Johnson and her assistant, Miss Alva Ingraham, remained at their posts, telephoning warning to residents in the doomed area.

"You had better get out," Mrs. Johnson told her assistant, "because you can't help me." Miss Ingraham fractured a leg when she leaped from a window. Six business blocks, including that housing the postoffice, were wiped out. Their value exceeded $50,000.

COMMITTEE IN HOUSE LAYS MATTER OF WARSHIPS ASIDE

Question to Be Brought Up At Coming Session by Rep. Fred Britten

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—President Coolidge's opposition to the elevating of guns of American warships to increase their firing range was announced officially at the White House this afternoon.

It was said that the president felt that the naval competition among the powers might be precipitated if this government approved the elevation of the guns, while holding that such improvements in American vessels would not constitute a violation of the arms conference treaty.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The House this afternoon passed the 1925-26 army appropriation bill carrying a total of $332,000,000. It now goes to the Senate. Provision was made for an army of 125,000 enlisted men and 18,000 officers, the present strength.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Acceding to President Coolidge's demands for economy, and despite Secretary Wilbur's official admission of the weakness of the United States navy, the House naval affairs committee today abandoned for the present session of Congress—all efforts at remedial naval legislation.

The policy of the committee was decided upon when Representative Fred Britten, Republican of Illinois, who compelled the appearance of Wilbur before the committee yesterday for testimony with respect to the deficiency of the American navy, announced that he would not press his demands for new legislation at this time.

Britten announced, however, that at the next session of Congress he would again demand improvements which he has been seeking.

"I shall re-introduce and press my demand for elevation of the guns on the battleships," Britten said. "Public sentiment for rehabilitation of the navy by that time, I believe, will force legislation. The president and Secretary Hughes do not want it now. I judge a majority of the House naval affairs committee to be against it. I am satisfied with development of the facts from the time."

FARMERS MEET TO DISCUSS PROBLEMS

Co-operative Marketing Is Stressed In Sessions
At Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1923

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Agriculture wants no special favors and no privileges that any other class of business men or producers enjoy, but just a sympathetic administration of the laws now on the statute books.

This is the outstanding thought in the minds of most of the leaders meeting here this week in the annual session of the National Council of Farmers' Co-operative Marketing associations. Coincident with this meeting is that of the agricultural commission named by President Coolidge to devise ways and means to aid agriculture. If the latter listened to the co-operatives, there will be a campaign of intensive education to make the present laws more effective and to organize the farmers to solve their own problems.

The co-operatives meeting here represents more than 1,000,000 farmers in about forty states. The delegates constitute the president, general managers and active workers in the various co-operative marketing associations. Wheat, corn, livestock, fruits, cotton, in fact every phase of agriculture is involved, and every crop even to grass seed.

Exchange Ideas
The delegates meet primarily to exchange ideas about their common problems, to relate their experiences and to strengthen the co-operative idea. When the conclusions are reached after their discussion they will be reported to all concerned—the department of agriculture, congressional committees, the agricultural commission and the president of the United States.

The delegates are deeply interested in seeing the right kind of a man named as secretary of agriculture. They are not interested in the candidacy of anyone, but are anxious that a man who has the right economic background shall take the portfolio.

Judge R. W. Bingham of Louisville, chairman of the council, who opened the meeting, pointed out that the co-operative marketing plan already had survived all sorts of financial distress and was making real headway. He criticized Henry Ford for attacking the co-operative movement.

Education Real Test
Carl Williams of the Oklahoma Stockman, Oklahoma City, who is vice-chairman of the council, said the real test in co-operative marketing was in educating the farmer as to how the co-operative plan really works and he emphasized that co-operative marketing does not merely benefit the members of a co-operative association, but all farmers regardless of their membership in organizations of this kind.

Former Governor Lowden of Illinois revealed some of the perplexities of agriculture which it is the hope of the co-operatives to solve. He referred to the increase in value of the principal farm crops of approximately $750,000,000 last year.

"To illustrate," he explained, "the corn crop was about 20 per cent smaller than the crop of the preceding year. The total value, however, exceeded that of the preceding crop by $200,000,000. Everyone knows that the quality of this year's crop was far below the quality of the preceding crop. Much of this year's yield was soft and chaffy. And yet under a marketing system which it is claimed is one of the most noteworthy achievements of this commercial age, the smaller crop of inferior corn was worth more in the market than the larger and superior crop of the year before."

Cold Wet Summer
"The cause was a cold, wet summer. It was a disastrous summer for corn but helpful to the growth of grass and in meadow and pastures. There was, therefore, a considerable increase in the production of milk, with the result that something like 100,000,000 pounds more of butter were produced in 1924 than the year before. This is but about 5 per cent of the total annual production of butter in the United States. It created a surplus, however, of only about fifty million pounds, as compared with the surplus of the year before on account of increased domestic consumption."

"This relatively small increase, due to the same wet days and cold nights, which so seriously injured the corn crop, resulted in a decrease of the price of butter from 20 to 25 per cent. And the price of butter, let it be remembered, largely controls the price of all other dairy products. Since the total value of dairy products upon the farm in 1923 was in the neighborhood of $2,500,000,000, this decrease in market price resulted in an estimated loss to the dairy farmers of $500,000,000. Is it to be wondered at that the farmers distrust the present method of marketing farm products? Now, suppose the corn growers and milk producers had been completely organized during these years, do you believe this depressing and puzzling condition would have come about?"

Denies Any Surplus
Mr. Lowden thinks the corn growers would have failed to dump their products on the market and would have sold sparingly, storing the remainder with a WAR!

A Series of Seven Articles on War: With a local-civic objective by "Mr. A. Studios Veteran."

Article Two

Yesterday the opinion was advanced that future wars could not be avoided because of three factors—self preservation, survival of the fittest and natural growth.

Permit this theory's application briefly to the World War fresh in our minds.
In 1814, the population of the German area was 25 millions; as late as 1870 it was 40 millions with little cotton and negligible industry and commerce. During the forty years preceding the World War and based on the crushing and spoliation of France, the German government fostered intensively scientific and technical education, developed manufactures and commerce tremendously, successfully competing with the nations surrounding her on all sides. Her population had increased to 70 millions, she had built up the most powerful military machine that the world had ever known, and surrounded it with universal military service and reinforced its striking power by constructing every resource in transportation, factories and wealth around and as a part of its military force.

This military dominance was fully controlled by a great body of highly trained professional soldier-officers, a military caste imbued with the doctrine of force for the advancement of the nation's ends. They feverishly nurtured a national spirit and the pan-germanic idea of ruling the world.

Germany demanded a "place in the sun," required a space for excess population and commodities. She was surrounded on all sides by potential superiors. Russia with 200 millions and a powerful army and military caste but no resources to make them formidable. France with forty millions, a powerful but limited military force but with untold millions to develop in her territories. England with forty-five millions, no army to speak of but hundreds of millions of undeveloped people and resources in every continent. Germany saw what continued development of these commercial competitors would mean to her—her military leaders believed the time had arrived when a blow should be struck, new peace conditions imposed securing her status before the threatened developments of her rivals could be accomplished.

How Germany struck at France through Belgium is well known. Paris was to fall in six weeks, long before Russia could move. Belgium and England were not considered a menace. Once France was defeated with terrific peace terms imposed, the lesser force easily could be overawed and placed in subjection.

How the necessity of self-preservation caused Belgium's dogged resistance, England's sacrifice of her wonderful handful of magnificent regulars—the cream of the British Empire, Russia's unexpected brilliant first attack in the East changed the short war into a long war is a matter of history.

As the war advanced, it became increasingly clear to all the world outside Central Europe that the German attack was something more than a bid of world power and commercial supremacy. By her invasion of Belgium, officially ordered atrocities in Belgium and France against non-combatants and utter disregard for all civilized laws of warfare, it developed that the war was also an attack on our common civilization and all the precepts and doctrines of humanity which marked the world's rise from barbarism. In other words, it became a war for the survival of the fittest as well as of self preservation and the inherent demand for freedom, without repression and suppression—the offspring of mental development.

These factors caused other nations and the American people to recognize that neutrality was utterly impossible and made them join in the war of Democracy against Autocracy.

There are several million men and women in America who have first hand information as to what war itself means.

Texas Wheat And Oat Crops Defy Blizzards

FORT WORTH, Texas, Jan. 9.—The large Texas wheat and oat acreage seems to have passed through recent blizzards unharmed. Rains following on freezing weather saved these crops and the stand is good.

full knowledge that at a not far distant date they would have received a fair price for their corn. He insists they would have adjusted the supply to the demand of the prime movers in the co-operative organizations of the country, disclosed that he had been giving a great deal of study to the question of surplus and that he had come to the conclusion that "it exists mainly in the minds of those whose interest it is to depress prices." He argued that the farmers are best fitted as producers to fix prices and that their bargaining power plus their understanding of their market equips them to do what is done in other industries.

The basic and fundamental fact about the co-operatives is that they are tackling agriculture from the viewpoint of practical economics and business and not theory. Their meeting is one of the most important things that has happened here in connection with the whole agricultural problem and they have the respect and sympathy of President Coolidge who has been watching their work closely.

FORTY-NINERS LIVE AGAIN AT CLUB

Women of Thursday Society Recall Old Days In Sunny California

The days when the "prairie schooner" followed the Santa Fe trail and all roads led to the Pacific coast in the exodus that followed the news of the discovery of placer gold in California were brought in mind at yesterday's meeting of the Thursday Afternoon club held at the home of Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, 1423 South Brand boulevard.

Mrs. George Daniels of Pasadena was speaker, telling of the early days of the goldseeker, recounting the romance and tragedy that followed the bands of plucky pioneers that traversed the trails across the plains in the days of '49 and the early '50's, when "Spades were Trumps" and a spade and bowie knife were the most important articles of the equipment of the pioneer.

Mrs. Daniels read extracts from the recently published Memoirs of the late Senator Cornelius Cole of Los Angeles, who was one of the Forty-niners.

Costumes of that period and a display of treasured keepsakes and heirlooms provided additional attractions. Over the fireplace hung a painting from Germany, that came "around the horn," hung in the first art exhibit held in San Francisco in the '50's, owned by Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, and purchased by her father. The speaker was attired in a street costume of that period, a dress of flowered material, with black lace shawl and quaint bonnet.

Costumes Worn
Mrs. Carrie Campbell, club president, wore a matron's dress of black silk with white fichu and lace headpiece with pink ribbons. Mrs. A. L. Bancroft, a gown of pink silk, with lace shawl collar and short puffed sleeves, a dress that was part of the wedding trousseau of her mother. Mrs. F. A. Archer wore a Spanish senorita costume, with draped shawl, black lace mantilla and ivory comb. Miss Hazel Campbell, a dainty Dolly Varden silk, and coiffure of '49. Mrs. J. W. Sharpe, in period costume of black, assisted in receiving. Mrs. S. D. Vantine

VARIETY SHOW TO PRESENT 'MIKADO'

Students Take Comic Opera
For This Year's Annual Play

Combine a Japanese garden, a lovely lady, and two rivals. The result is certain to be interesting. But when one of the rivals is a disguised prince, and the other is in danger of losing his head, matters become more lively.

For first hand information concerning this romance, we advise you to attend the Annual Variety show. This year "The Mikado" is being featured under the direction of Mrs. Florence Parker, and it is a comic opera that really is comic. The performances are set for 8 o'clock on January 15 and 16, at the Broadway High school.

There you will find the Japanese garden, Yum-Yum, and those rivals, Nanki-Pooh and Ko-Ko. Nanki-Pooh is no other than the Mikado's son, disguised as a wandering minstrel and he wants to marry Yum-Yum. But the maiden is promised to the lord high executioner, Ko-Ko.

Cast of Players
The question would seem to be rather hopeless were it not that the Mikado, a ferocious old gentleman with a weakness for leading people, has noticed a falling-off in the number of recent executions. So he promptly orders the death of the luckless lord high executioner. Poor Ko-Ko comes to Nanki-Pooh for help. What is the disguised prince to do? Must he help his rival? It would be cruel to let him die. Nanki-Pooh makes a unique bargain. All are invited to see and hear for themselves. The singing will be furnished by the combined school glee clubs, supported by the following cast of players: Mikado of Japan, Arthur Cornelius; Nanki-Pooh, Craig Leitch; Ko-Ko, Don Dietrick; Pooh-Bah, Archie Niel; Pish-Tush, Joyce Farr; Yum-Yum, Almed Todd and Doris Barnett; Katisha, Marjory Hart.

Cartoons In Evening News Given Positions of Honor

Two of Cargill's editorial cartoons, such as are supplied by the Central Press association as a daily feature of The Glendale Evening News, were recently reproduced in the Literary Digest. Another cartoon by Cargill was reproduced in a recent number of the New York American, and still another in The Outlook.

Samuel J. Gompers, son of the great labor leader, had his attention called to a Cargill cartoon published by The Evening News, San Antonio, relative to the life and work of the late Samuel Gompers. In a letter to A. W. Walliser, managing editor of that paper, the son of the labor leader said in part:

"My brothers and I regard this cartoon as a wonderful tribute to the life of our father. We feel that the original should be placed in the American Federation of Labor Gompers Museum. If that can be done, it would be very gratifying to his sons and to the officials of the American Federation of Labor."

The cartoon referred to was sent out by the Central Press association. The request has been complied with, it is learned, and the original of the Cargill cartoon has been mailed to the great labor leader's son. Incidentally, the cartoon referred to was published in The Glendale Evening News.

U. S. C. DEBATERS TO MEET OXFORD

England University Students Have Negative Question
On Prohibition

University of Southern California debaters will meet representatives of Oxford University Thursday night, January 15, in Bovard auditorium and debate the question, "Resolved, That This House Is Opposed to the Principle of Prohibition." The Oxford students will argue that the eighteenth amendment is an infringement on the constitutional clause which states that the United States is a free country, while U. S. C. will uphold the constitution in this respect. W. S. Teetzel, 718 North Kenwood, a sophomore at U. S. C. is chairman of the debate committee.

The personnel of the British team is made up of Malcolm MacDonald, son of Ramsay MacDonald, former premier of Great Britain; J. C. Woodruff and H. C. Hollis. The team is considered the best in the British Empire and was chosen from 200 aspirants of Oxford university, who tried out for the United States trip.

The U. S. C. men chosen by Alan Nichols, debate coach, to oppose Oxford are Ned Lewis, student body president; Bernard Brennen and William Barber, president of the law school. Lewis recently was chosen as the best extemporaneous speaker on the Pacific coast, and Brennen and Barber have a record of 20 wins of 23 debates.

The debate will be looked upon by most people as the airing of the opinions held by the thinkers of each nation represented, and material will be taken from newspaper editorials and current magazines. A record breaking crowd is expected to fill Bovard auditorium. Tickets for the debate may be obtained from Mr. Worthy at the Glendale High school.

160 Attempts at Theft Of Stores In 2 Months

In the two-month period since November 7, 160 Glendale merchants' stores have been found with doors or windows opened during night. This fact was called to the attention of Secretary Frank A. Pilling of the Glendale Credit association, in a letter written today by Chief John D. Fraser of the Glendale police department. Though there were no robberies, the latter points out, Mr. Pilling is urged to bring this matter before the association, in order to reduce the burglary risk in the city.

MYSTERY PLAY ATTRACTION OF MERIT

Dobinson Players Deserving Of Hearty Support In Presenting Show

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff.

Alluring incense from the Oriental psychic palace of Madame Mystera, in New York's underworld, floated over the auditorium at the Tuesday Afternoon club last night, creating a bit of convincing atmosphere for the mystery play, "The Hole in the Wall," being presented this week and next by the Dobinson Players.

"The Hole in the Wall" is the best thing the Dobinson Players have done yet, is the verdict rendered by many of the regular attendants at the club playhouse. Anyway, it's a dramatic production of supreme excellence, both from point of composition and from presentation.

Fred Jackson, author of the four-act play, created a melodrama of mystery dealing with spiritualism. It is a play not easy for presentation, but the Dobinson Players are giving an interpretation, which may well be classed with plays having long and popular runs in cities of greater magnitude than Glendale.

Remarkable Setting
As the first curtain goes up the audience is, indeed, transported to a setting in "Little Old New York." Not a detail has been omitted by George C. Pearce, director of the Dobinson Players, in making Madame Mystera's place the exotic place it must have been. This scene and another in the office of the chief of police make up the background for the action of the play. On metropolitan stages one sees no better stage settings.

Jean Oliver is the girl in "The Hole in the Wall." She has been forced to do time "up the river" for a crime she never committed. When she returns to society, embittered against the world, she seeks to avenge herself on society, and on the mother of her former sweetheart, who was responsible for her conviction. As a means to this end she employs the aid of a clever band of crooks, whose game is spiritualism. They kidnap the woman's grandson, and a girlhood sweetheart of Jean, in the role of newspaper-reporter.

Residential Tract
"We look upon this section as the center of a good residential district and expect that the people who will buy sites for holiday camps and week-end places now will steadily develop them into homes which will be their pride and comfort a few years from now," Mr. Twining said.

Mr. Twining said the firm will sell on easy terms and will do some building.

Tujunga headquarters of Twining & Myers will be at 101 East Michigan avenue in the building at Sunset and the state highway, formerly occupied by the stage office.

Number Plan To Fight For City Council

Candidates and probable candidates for City Council at the municipal election to be held the second Tuesday in April are making ready for the contest. Indications are there will be at least ten candidates for the five positions.

All of the present councilmen, it is predicted, will be in the race. In fact, Mayor Spencer Robinson has formally announced to The Glendale Evening News he is a candidate. Councilman C. E. Kimlin announced some days ago in this newspaper he would seek re-election; S. S. Gilhuly, also a member of the present council, will run, and S. A. Davis, councilman, has not denied his candidacy. H. G. MacBain, recently appointed to the council, is expected to make his formal announcement soon.

Then, last night the Greater Northwest Improvement association urged Percy J. Hayselden and its president, J. H. Randall, to get into the race and both will probably do so. Political prophets say that James M. Rhoades will shortly hurl his hat into the ring. R. S. Person, president of the Glendale Republican club, might be persuaded to run for council, according to gossip on the street corners.

There seems to be a demand in the eastern section of the city for C. W. Ingledue to get into the race. It is pointed out that he has many friends throughout the city.

And, hist! There is a possibility that a woman will enter the contest. It is said that a number of women throughout the city want one of their sex to represent them. Glendale once before had a woman member of the Board of Trustees.

George H. Seal, 1312 South Central, member of the Glendale Southeast Improvement association, will be a council candidate, it seems certain. He has the backing of a number of the residents in his section of the city.

And that's not all, for it is whispered that the Federated Brotherhood, an organization made up of representatives of a number of local churches, may put some candidates into the race for council or, perhaps, endorse certain candidates who may announce themselves.

It is reported that there are several "dark horses" that will be entered in the councilmanic handicap at the proper time, one of these being a resident of the southern section of Glendale.

So, the indications are that the fight for the five positions on the City Council will be a hot and merry one—and may the best men win!

CITY COUNCIL CANDIDACY IS URGED

Percy J. Hayselden and J. H. Randall Asked
To Enter Contest

The names of two well-known Glendadians today became prominently linked with the forthcoming race for City Council at the April municipal election. Percy J. Hayselden, secretary of the City Planning commission and active member of the Greater Northwest Improvement association and also a member of the planning commission, may enter the campaign, following their endorsement by the Greater Northwest Improvement association, of which Mr. Randall is head, last night. The proposed candidates have ever been hard and faithful workers not only for the northwest but for the city at large, it was pointed out.

Both men were present at the meeting at the Grand View school. Their names were placed by C. L. Jenkins, treasurer of the association. J. A. Gyger seconded the endorsement and it was made unanimous. President Randall and Mr. Hayselden responded with brief talks.

Not Yet Decided
That he had not decided fully whether to accept the invitation to seek the councilship or decline it was the declaration of Mr. Hayselden. He promised to consider the matter carefully and make an early decision. If he ran it would be on a pledge of an out and out business administration for the city of Glendale, he said.

"Only one promise will I give, if I see fit to make the race, and that is my best efforts for a business man's organization and a business man's methods of handling things, striving ever to serve the whole city without regard to sectional differences of opinion," concluded Mr. Hayselden.

Mr. Randall made a unified city, governed by a unified council, working for the best interests of the community as a whole, the keynote of his response to the association's endorsement. He said he would stand on his records of accomplishments in the northwest section during the past four and one-half years, but that his efforts as a councilman, if elected, would be devoted to no single section.

SEEKS VOTE ON PEACE

People throughout the nation will speed the work of the Rev. Dr. Herbert S. Bigelow of Cincinnati, who has just been given a year's leave of absence by the people of his church for the purpose of organizing a nation-wide campaign in which each state will be asked to enact a bill directing that a peace program, as outlined by Dr. Bigelow, be submitted to the voters next November. The questions on which he would have the people vote are as follows:

Shall the United States Congress request a conference of all nations to try to devise a plan, to which all can agree, for the substitution of law for war, and for world-wide disarmament?

Shall measures be taken to conscript property as well as persons, to the end that if war comes there shall be equal service for all and special profit to none?

Shall measures be taken to abolish the private manufacture of munitions of war?

Shall efforts be taken to mobilize all the educational forces to build up in the coming generation a new mind, making for international understanding and good will?

It is a favorable sign that so many people are thinking and talking of ways and means of promoting international peace. Surely these questions submitted to the people of the country would result in a favorable vote and public opinion as expressed in the ballot would furnish support to government officials or organizations formed for the purpose of carrying out the program outlined in the questions.

No one but the munitions and arms manufacturers who made enormous profits during the war and who are still engaged in furnishing war materials to China, Morocco and other countries would object to the prohibition of the private manufacture of arms. The people of the United States are generally fair and consistent and the proposal, made some months ago, to conscript property in case of war brought forth many expressions of approval. There is no doubt the vote on this question would be in the affirmative. The voters would also be quick to authorize a conference of nations to consider peace, but this is the weak point in Dr. Bigelow's plan. So many of the recent conferences of nations on any and all subjects have proved disheartening and disappointing and have only seemed to stir up more discord. Really, the last question is the all-important one, for it is only in education, in "building up in the coming generation a new mind," that permanent peace can be secured for the world.

RELIGION IN COLLEGE

The accusation is often heard that religion is disappearing from the colleges and that atheism is encouraged by the advanced studies offered. But Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, prominent New York preacher, who came into the limelight in the recent controversy between the fundamentalists and the modernists, or rather, perhaps, he precipitated the controversy, declares that this charge is untrue. A far greater proportion of the students in American colleges are religious today than was the case a century and a half ago, he says, and he speaks of the present generation as "splendid, bewildering, adventurous, hopeful," commending the spirit of investigation that prevails in matters of religion and politics. According to this preacher, the present generation is more intelligent than others that have preceded it, since it does its own thinking and does not adopt principles handed down to it from older generations.

This tendency to investigate is splendid, and we must commend the younger people of today for insisting upon thinking things out for themselves. But there is danger of going too far in the matter of rejecting existing opinions and substituting self-made ones. There is too much of the thought that there is no merit in anything that existed before the year 1900. There is an inclination to reject long-established principles in religion and politics and other vital matters, just because they come out of the past, and to substitute for them personal ideas and opinions which, due to lack of years and experience, are inferior. Worse still, is the tendency to reject old ideals and put nothing in their place.

It is a hopeful and commendable sign that the present generation insists upon doing its own thinking, but it is to be hoped that it will not overlook the fact that there have been great and intelligent minds in the past and that certain truths and principles will always be applicable to human life and experience and will never grow out of date.

INNOCENT SUFFER FOR GUILTY

A short time ago a storekeeper in a small nearby town, with a friend, engaged in a shooting match with a couple of detectives, each party thinking the others were burglars. There was at least one casualty. A young man who was having some trouble with his car on the road not so far from Glendale one night recently, stopped another car to ask for a ride to the nearest garage, and was shot dead by the driver, who thought he was a holdup man.

In Chicago a man and his wife were returning to their home one evening when they were stopped by a group of detectives in a machine. The husband fired on the men, killed one and injured two others. Two instances of gangsters in autos robbing and kidnapping women in the same neighborhood led the husband to believe that a similar attack was being made on him and his wife. The same day a Chicago patrolman was shot by a watchman, who took him for a robber. About the same time a stranger in Chicago who accosted a citizen was shot dead. The citizen thought he was about to be robbed.

All this killing of innocent people must be charged up to three accounts: To the real criminals who have created such a fear in the minds of the people that they suspect everyone; to the newspapers who place too much emphasis upon crime and who help to foster this fear in the minds of the people; and to the practice of carrying weapons on the part of every Tom, Dick and Harry.

It is only natural, after all we hear about holdups and robberies, we should suspect every stranger and every person we meet unexpectedly of having designs upon our pocketbooks or our persons, and it is up to us to shoot first. And so, while the crooks and gunmen are at work killing officers and each other, the decent people of the community are at work killing other decent people, in the fear that they may be crooks. As always, the innocent suffer for the guilty.

Two Women State Governors

Two of the states in the United States have women governors. The state of Texas is presided over by Mrs. Mariam Ferguson, whose picture appears at the left. The state of Wyoming is headed by Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, whose picture appears at the right. Their administrations are being closely watched, especially by women, all over the country, for it is predicted that their official acts will, to an extent, determine whether other women will seek governorships in other states.

The First Virtue

By DR. FRANK CRANE

The most fundamental of all virtues is courage. There have been found some tribes and races who do not know so much as the name of some of our other virtues, but there has never been discovered a tribe of men who do not respect courage. It is the universal virtue.

Historically it is one of the first virtues. David and Samson and other Bible heroes had many faults, but all of them were brave men.

Perseus, Theseus, Hercules and others among the Greek mythological figures had much to condemn in them, but all of them were brave. In fact no race of people has apotheosized any man who was not brave.

Paul and Socrates have a good deal to say in praise of love and justice and yet they are both remembered because at critical epochs in their lives they were unafraid.

The young Russian Jew who in his Freshman year in college read the "Defense of Socrates" in Greek, said to his instructor: "I came into this class afraid to die. Now I am not afraid."

Courage is contagious. Every one of us who is brave in his own sphere communicates bravery to others. Just as fear is contagious and a panic is caused by its spread.

We may rest assured that we are doing this hard world some good if we stand squarely on our feet and face manfully whatever events may come.

In the same way, giving way to fear by any one of us does much to deplete the stock of the life force of the world. We should face boldly, not only what evil powers may do to us but the consequences of our own actions, which are sometimes worse.

The beginning of the rejuvenation of man, of any reformation, that is worth while, is in the act of defiance.

It is when a man realizes that there is something in him that is not subject to the whim of others, or events on the universe, but can stand out against them that he has begun his proper redemption. This comes when he can say and believe:

"I am the master of my fate,
I am the captain of my soul."

Who's Who

As president of the Radio Corporation of America Major General James G. Harbord is playing a leading role in the expansion of radio and its establishment on a firm basis. Major General Harbord was hale enough when he retired after thirty-four years' service in the United States army to accept the presidency of the Radio Corporation of America. His genius as an organizer and executive made his services more valuable in "service with troops."

For example, after having a brief opportunity to demonstrate his capacity in the field by leading the Marine brigade to undying fame at Chateau-Thierry and later directing the successful operations of the famous Second division in the Soissons offensive, General Harbord was appointed commander of the service of supply of the A. E. F., a post that enabled him to prove his capacity as an organizer.

James G. Harbord served nearly three years as a doughboy after his enlistment in the Fourth United States infantry in 1889. The fact that he was appointed quartermaster sergeant of his regiment while still a recruit was a foreboding of the executive ability which eventually won him two stars and since his retirement from the army has placed him at the helm of a large corporation.

This distinguished ex-private's array of decorations rivals that of General Pershing. They include the D. S. The Best of Advice

By CLARK KINNARD

Our thoughts are the epochs in our lives; all else is but a journal of the winds that blew while we were here. So it seemed to Henry David Thoreau, Doctor of Nature.

Nothing was ever so unfamiliar and startling to a man as his own thoughts.

"What a man thinks of himself, that is which determines, or rather indicates, his fate," Thoreau said.

He believed the highest we can attain to is not mere knowledge, but sympathy with intelligence.

This was his creed: "The wisest man preaches no doctrines; he has no scheme; he sees no rafter, not even a cobweb, against the heavens. It is a clear sky."

Every generation laughs at the old fashions, but follows religiously the new. — Henry David Thoreau.

It seemed to Thoreau that the mass of men live lives of quiet desperation. "What is called resignation is confirmed desperation." For these men he has this advice:

"However mean your life is, meet it and live it; do not shun it and call it hard names. It is not so bad as you are."

"Do what you love. Know your own bone, know at it, bury it, unearth it, and gnaw it still. . . . Love your life, poor as it is. You may perhaps have some pleasant, thrilling, glorious hours, even in a poor-house. . . . Live your life, do your work, then take your hat."

"All biography is the life of Adam, — a much-experienced man, — and time withdraws something partial from the story of every individual, that the historian may supply something in general. . . .

"Each man can interpret another's experience only by his own."

State Veterans' Board Helps 635 Ex-Buddies

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9.—In his annual report, submitted to Governor Richardson, George Stout, secretary of the state veterans' welfare board, declared that during 1924 the board assisted a total of 635 former service men in buying homes under provisions of the state farm and home purchase act. The home purchases represented a total expenditure of $2,780,000, the report stated, and sixty-five farms were bought for former soldiers and sailors desiring farm aid at a cost of $350,000.

During 1925 the board expects to expend the major part of the money remaining from funds voted in the last bond issues, estimates indicating that expenditures

REDUCTIONS ON INCOME TAX EXPLAINED

Collector Goodcell Outlines Changes In Revenue
Laws for 1925

Hundreds of taxpayers who are filing income tax returns are failing to take advantage of the 25 per cent reduction in the tax on earned income which is allowed under the revenue act of 1924.
Collector of Internal Revenue Rex
B. Goodcell announced.

"All income up to $5000 is considered 'earned income,' Collector Goodcell explained, "and in computing the tax on his net income the taxpayer may take a credit of 25 per cent of the tax on his net income up to $5000, no matter from what source. On net income of more than $5000 the amount in excess of $5000 must be actual earned income in order to be entitled to the 25 per cent credit.
No income over $10,000 is considered earned income.

Amount of Tax

"For example, a taxpayer, unmarried and with no dependents, whose net income for 1924 is $5000, would pay without this reduction a tax of $80. His actual tax is $60. From his net income of $5000 he is allowed a personal exemption of $1000, the tax of 2 per cent on the $4000 of taxable income is $80, one-fourth of which, or $20, may be deducted.
A taxpayer who receives a salary of $20,000, for example, can claim only $10,000 as 'earned net income.'

"In the case of a married man with no dependents, whose earned net income is $7000 and who has other income of $1500, a total of $8500, the tax, without the benefit of the 25 per cent reduction, would amount to $160—$8500 less a personal exemption of $2500, equaling $6000, on which the tax on the first $4000 at 2 per cent amounts to $80, and on the next $2000 at 4 per cent to $80. On the earned net income the tax amounts to $100—$7000 less the exemption of $2500, equaling $4500 on which the tax on the first $4000 at 2 per cent amounts to $80 and on the remaining $500 at 4 per cent to $20. One-fourth of the tax on earned net income, or $25, can be deducted from $160, leaving $135 as the total tax payable.

"Taxpayers will save money and time by filing at once, in order that deputy collectors may assist them in preparing their returns and taking advantage of the 25 per cent reduction," Collector Goodcell added.

Tells Exemptions

Collector Goodcell announced that the exemptions provided for by the revenue act of 1924 were as follows:

"A personal exemption of $2500 is allowed all married taxpayers living with husband or wife and heads of families, irrespective of the amount of their income. Under the old law an exemption of $2500 was allowed on net incomes up to $5000 and $2000 on net incomes in excess of that sum. An exemption of $400 is allowed for each dependent, within the meaning of the law.

"The exemption of single persons is $1000, the same as under the old law."

HEARING RESTORED OFTEN IN 24 HOURS

Amazing Results Secured in One Day By Use of Virex Formerly Known As Rattle Snake Oil

Deafness and Head Noises need not be dreaded any longer since the discovery of a widely known physician. Now it is possible for some of the most obstinate cases of deafness to be relieved in a day's time by the application of a prescription formerly known as Rattle Snake Oil.
This treatment is meeting with wide success all over the country.

Mr. D. M. Lopes, a Pennsylvania man, says: "I used the treatment at night before going to bed. The following morning I could hear the tickings of the alarm clock that I was unable to hear before. Now my hearing is restored perfectly after many years of deafness."

Mr. Ben Jackson, who lives in Indiana, says: "Before I used Virex I could hear nothing. After ten days
I could hear my watch tick."

Angeline Johnson, a Mississippi resident had been stone deaf for eighteen years. She says, "Virex has stopped my head noises and can hear the train whistle 3 1/2 miles away."

Roy Fisher, Iowa man, says, "I hadn't heard a watch tick for eleven years—now I can lay my watch on the table and hear it plainly."

Mr. W. A. Lumpkin, of Oklahoma, says: "After being deaf 38 years, I used your treatment only a few days and hear fairly well."

Mr. Anthony Chapman, of Michigan, says: "The terrible head noises have stopped entirely and my hearing is practically back to normal."

Deaf Baby Now Hears
Mrs. Ola Valentine, of Arkansas, says: "My little boy, now 5 years old, had been deaf since about 4 months of age. Now he hears very well and is learning to talk."

Mr. J. Mathers says: "My young son, deaf for years, has used Virex for only three days and he hears almost as well as ever before."

Such amazing reports come from all over this country and Canada.
The prescription which is known as Virex, is easily used at home and seems to work like magic in its rapidity on people of all ages.
So confident are we that Virex will restore your hearing quickly, and to introduce this remarkable treatment to a million more sufferers, we will send a large $2.00 treatment for only $1.00 on ten days' free trial. If the results are not satisfactory the treatment costs nothing.
Send no money—just your name and address to the Virex Laboratories, 2037 Gateway Station, Kansas City, Mo., and the treatment will be mailed at once. Use it according to the simple directions. If at the end of 10 days your hearing is not relieved, your head noises gone entirely, just send it back and your money will be refunded without question. This offer is fully guaranteed, so write today and give this wonderful compound a trial.—Advertisement.

CHILD'S LABOR AMENDMENT RATIFIED

State Legislature Votes 69
To 10; Club Women
Praise Action

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9.—The overwhelming and speedy vote by which the California Legislature ratified the federal child labor amendment today brought forth praise from club women and representatives of the California League of Women Voters who actively supported the measure.

"We are happy over the splendid manner in which the child labor amendment was ratified by the Legislature," said Mrs. Ernest Wallace, legislative chairman of the league today. "Our next hope is that every state Legislature now in session will follow California's glorious example."

Vote 69 to 10

The vote in the Assembly favored the ratification by a vote of 69 to 10. In view of the overwhelming character of the endorsement a move for reconsideration was dropped. The measure was rushed to the Senate where it was passed 36 to 3 with Senator Murphy favorable to the measure absent.

Considerable interest centered
today in two bills in preparation.
One will bring the Ku Klux Klan issue again before the Legislature. It makes defacement of highways a misdemeanor and is said to be aimed at alleged K. K.
K. emblems which have been painted on the asphalt and cement state highways at various points.

The other bill will have the backing of peace officers and makes gun toting a prison offense. The bill would stop the sale of weapons except to persons carrying permits.

Flood of Bills

With the annual flood of bills now in full tide with the introduction of the first measures yesterday the hopper is expected to be kept full for the next three weeks.

Interest is now divided between the announcement of the personnel of the Assembly and Senate committees and the forthcoming budget. Speaker Merriam, Lieutenant-Governor Young are hard at work on the committee assignments and have the list nearly completed. Their announcement will permit the consideration by committee of important measures to begin soon.

CREDIT METHODS SUBJECT OF TALK

C. W. Harkins Outlines Faults
Of System In Address
Before Kiwanians

Merchants who grant credit on the basis of fellowship, and do not insist that credit accounts be paid when they become due, are slowly but surely inviting the sheriff to take bankruptcy signs on their front doors. C. W. Harkins, of Los Angeles, told members of the Kiwanis club today noon at the weekly luncheon held at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. President Frank Fox presided at the meeting.

The credit dollar throughout the United States is only worth 73 cents, the speaker said. Records show 85 per cent of all retail merchants fail, eight per cent make money and seven per cent are just getting by. He advocated a definite system of credit in retail business to prevent the collapse of the credit system.

Mr. Harkins cited the standardized method followed by large automobile concerns in the selling of cars. Every branch of business except the retail merchants dictate credit terms, he said.

Present Motives

Jesse Smith, chairman of the business methods and standards committee, told of the plan to have business motives framed and presented to the club. Five of the motives were read today. Mr.
Smith introduced the speaker.

Announcement was made of the concert to be given January 26 at the Broadway High school by the

NEW YORK CLOSING

By W. S. COUSINS
For International News Service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The foreign exchange, stock and grain markets continued today in strong and aggressive forward movement which has been in progress with very little interruption since Tuesday morning. After its opening at 4.78 1/2, demand sterling pushed forward all day and reached 4.79 1/2 shortly after the noon period. A strong sterling market also prevailed in London, while Danish and Norwegian currency were both quoted at new high levels since 1923.

Activity in the stock market lapsed after the first heavy influx of buying orders had been filled, but price trends were constantly toward higher levels with the steel and oil stocks in the lead and many of the high priced industrials and specialties giving spectacular individual performances. In this last group may be mentioned Nash Motors, which jumped six points; Fidelity Phoenix Insurance Co., 8 points; Savage Arms, 4 points to 90 1/2, and Baldwin Locomotive, 3 points to 36 1/2.

Favorable developments in the steel and oil industries continued to absorb the attention of the speculative interests, the latter showing signs of at last overcoming the effects of the extremely heavy production of crude oil and refining processes which turn out twice as much gasoline to a barrel of oil as formerly. So heavy has been the increase in consumption of gasoline in the last six months that refiners have drawn liberally on their storage supplies of both crude and refined oil.

Denver & Rio Grande continued its spectacular course, advancing nearly 5 points to 53 3/4, up nearly 12 points since its listing on the stock exchange on December 30.

Sears Roebuck's rise to 162 3/4 put that stock in the highest position in the price list since 1920 and heavy buying was in order at the high prices. Montgomery Ward rose to above 50 for the first time in its history and Macy gained 3 1/2 points at 80. Woolworth was active around 125, about 1 point higher.

Stock sales totaled today
2,840,000 shares; bonds, $19,- 195,000.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

DISTRIBUTION OF FOUNDATION REDUCING DIET
Yesterday I told you what you should have for a daily foundation reducing diet. I will review it briefly for it is important: 150 to 200 C. of vegetables, part raw; 200 C. of fruit, part raw; 160 C. of skim or buttermilk, or cottage cheese; 200 C. of potato or whole wheat bread, or cereals or some other starchy food; and 150 C. of high protein food (meat, eggs, fish, etc.). This comes approximately to 900 C. daily.

The reason I ask you to have 900 C. of these foods is because they will supply the necessary vitamins, mineral element, protein and part of the carbohydrate. All of these are highly essential. This amount of food, however, is not sufficient to supply all of your energy needs so your own excess fat will be called upon to do that work. Snappy?

You can have each day 200 C. more than I have outlined and still be on the 1200 C. which will reduce almost any adult from one to two pounds a week. If you are very active, and especially if you have a large frame, you can probably reduce one to two pounds a week on a daily allowance of 1500 C. or even more. If you do not want to reduce so rapidly as one or two pounds a week you can have a more liberal diet.

If you are overweight it is a great deal better for you to reduce, even though you reduce only one-half pound a week, than to maintain your present weight or to continue to gain as you will probably do.

Let me emphasize again that a reducing diet (except for a short period) must be one which supplies all the needs of the system except part of the energy needs.

The eat-and-grow-thin menus written by laymen who know nothing of dietetics which tell you to cut out of your diet all fats and all starches, and to eat only excessively high protein diet, will bring on a state of acidosis and auto-intoxication which may be worse than the original condition of overweight.

Now today I want to talk a little about the distribution of your calories. You can take them during the day in any manner which you find most convenient. Take them all in one meal if you like and drink nothing but water the rest of the day; or take them in five meals. I have had thousands of letters from the followers of our articles on reducing, and many of them say they get along best on a late breakfast of about 400 C. and a dinner at night of the balance of the 1200 C.

Chats On Beauty

By EDNA KENT FORBES

UGLY NOSTRILS

There is nothing uglier than an ugly nose, as Cyrano would have agreed. But size doesn't matter as much as shape, and shape doesn't matter as much as the texture of the skin.

A good deal can be done to change the shape of the nose when young, in fact both nose and chin can be practically remodeled. But this is a matter for a facial specialist, the mother who tries to alter the baby's face is playing a risky game. If the child inherits a very, very bad feature, or is born deformed, she should ask the advice of some really first class surgeon before she begins to reform the features.

Still much can be done to alter the nose when one is grown up. A big ridge can be cut off. (It's a matter of snipping off cartilage) a snub can be filled out, though this is much harder. Many quacks are in the business, only a real facial specialist, looked up and recommended by one's family doctor, should be consulted for such work. A little can be done by massage, pressing in and down on a prominent nasal bridge and pressing in on prominent, ugly nostrils.

If your nose is not perfect, and if the pores are at all noticeable try this treatment. Buy some powdered oatmeal, wash the face with hot water, take some meal on the tips of the fingers and rub into the skin of the nostrils while the skin is hot and wet. Rub in more, you can work in a great deal. Wash out with hot water, then with cool, and end by using ice or an astringent. Do this daily and you'll be rid of those blackheads in no time.

Or try the same treatment with starch—laundry starch. But make this first into a thick paste with cold water, and apply while the skin is wet and hot and let it dry on. These treatments might be too drying for the rest of the skin, but not for the nose. Cold cream can be used afterward but is not necessary.

D. E.: If you are thin and have a double chin, you are either old so the skin sags, run down so the muscles of the skin are lax, or else you hold your head badly. Massage your chin with cleansing cream, rubbing it fairly hard to get rid of the flesh under the skin. Follow this by a ten minute massage with a bit of ice wrapped in a piece of cheesecloth or muslin. Exercise your chin by throwing the head back, mouth open, then closing the mouth. You'll feel the pull on those muscles. And remember that you must stand well. Think of that chin line while you stand or walk, keep your chest as high as you can, and your shoulders, chin and head will naturally take the best and prettiest position.

Hutton, secretary and Mrs. W. H. Hedges, treasurer. Mrs. Hutton gave the general report for the past year and also the monthly report. The money made by the society was used toward the building fund and the organ fund. Mrs. A. K. Luncheon was served at noon. The Aid society will hold meetings every Thursday at the church.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Meet at Church

An interesting program was presented yesterday afternoon at the meeting of the Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church at the church. A demonstration, "Over the Tea-cup," was conducted by Mrs. A. E. Cook of 662 West Milford street, who is a returned missionary from India. Mrs. Lincoln A. Ferris had charge of the topic, "Pioneering in China," and told of the experiences of her daughter, Miss Helen Ferris, who is an English teacher at Rulison High school at Kwei Kiang, China. Mrs. Ferris also told of the anti-foreign feeling which is so prevalent in China at the present time. Mrs. J. T. Bruss presided at the tea table and Mrs. Cook conducted the demonstration when the ceremonial tea, which is always served on state occasions in China, was served. Conversation over the tea-cups told of the work in China. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. S. D. Warner, first vice-president, in the absence of Mrs. W. B. Collins, president. In the talk given by Mrs. Cook, who was principal of a school at Bihar, India, she told of the interest of the pupils in trying to help in building the new school. One interesting incident in regard to the building of the new school was told by Mrs. Cook, who stated that help was hard to obtain at that time, and that the young girls would get up early in the morning and go to the hill where the school was to be erected and carry dirt away in baskets and put it in a hollow place. They would lift the dirt up by handbills until finally they had a level place for the new building. The Home Missionary society held a meeting at 1 o'clock, with Mrs. S. C. Wheeler, president, in charge. Mrs. Helen K. Scripps conducted the devotional service, after which monthly reports from officers and committees were heard. It was reported that two scholarships had been paid for through the J. O. C. class to the David and Margaret home at La Verne. A report was also given that building of the new home at La Verne had been started. Members of the Aid society met in the morning with Dr. B. C. Bentz of 804 South Verdugo road, representing the missionary organization of the state and southern conference of the Lutheran church, have spoken twice this week at church gatherings. On Monday night they were members at the dinner meeting of the young women of St. Mark's Lutheran church, Los Angeles. Yesterday they attended a woman's meeting of the Pasadena Lutheran church. Mrs. Hoffman presents the cause of life memberships, while Mrs. Bentz speaks on thanks offerings.

ANOTHER GERMAN WAR IS FORETOLD

Famous Author, Authority On Spying Systems, Tells Why

By HARRY R. FLOREY

For International News Service

LONDON, Jan. 9.—There will be another war with Germany within the next two years, and Crown Prince William will become Kaiser of Germany, in the opinion of William Le Queux, novelist and former journalist, who voiced his fears in a speech before the Hastings Rotary club.

Le Queux is understood to have intimate knowledge of the secret services of the continental powers, and is frequently consulted by various governments on subjects connected with spying. In his book, "The Invasion," published in 1908, he predicted the outbreak of the World war.

"I expect to be ridiculed for this prediction," Le Queux said.

"Just as I was when I prophesied correctly the last war. But the war of revenge is on the lips of everybody in Germany today.

"There is now in England, as there always has been, the hidden hand at work. I hope the new Baldwin government will take steps to be prepared."

More 'Big Berthas'

Le Queux quoted French official intelligence reports to prove that Germany is preparing, manufacturing poison-gas and germ bombs in plants supposed to be manufacturing lace and dyes;

constructing more "Big Berthas" and storing up guns and ammunition in all sorts of "outlandish places."

"Outside Hanover there is an experimental laboratory established in a private house," Le Queux declared, "where well-known, bacteriologists are even now working

MELODRAMA ON PLAYERS' STAGE

Underworld Mystery Story
'Hole In the Wall'
At Playhouse

The odor of burning incense, mysterious Buddha oriental draperies and the far-seeing crystal all go to build the thrilling melodrama "The Hole in the Wall" which the Dobinson Players are presenting at the Playhouse, Central at Lexington.

It tells the story of the underworld without its sordid features. The principal character is a woman who has been unjustly punished and attempts her revenge upon society in general and one woman in particular. The means she takes to accomplish this end and her final transition from a fake to a genuine "medium" are some of the drama's salient points. The play advances an argument for Spiritualism.

Mary Worth, as Jean Oliver, the victim of society, gives a fine performance in a role which could be easily overdone and is especially good in the opening scene with Limpy Jim and Deagon. Olaf Hytten as Danny McKeever, plays with artistry. Joseph McManus in the role of Gordon Grant, the reporter-detective, gives a clear characterization. William H. Stephens as Deagon, an East Indian attendant in Madam Mystera's home, can always be relied upon.

As Limpy Jim, Richard Ehlers shows his adaptation to "heavy" parts. As Chief of Police, William Chapman, who will be remembered for his clever delineation of Deagon Tillinger in "Turn to the Right" does good work. Mildred Evelyn, a newcomer, as Cora Thompson, made a decided hit. Thyrh Ruhlman as the haughty Mrs. Ramsay does a good character bit. Fanna Ralstin as Margaret Lyons, and Harry Glazier as Nichols do fine.

George C. Pearce who directed the play deserves commendation for his stagecraft.

COMMENT by GIL A. COWAN

Glendale's building record in 1924 was one which the writer can refer to with pride while discussing the prosperity of Southern California with Northern Californians. Now for a greater year.

As Glendale grows, no doubt, it will have the problems of the larger cities. Good government is a question in which each and every citizen should take personal interest.

Strange, how few people know their own city. Willis Baum, well known Republican leader, is at the capital aiding Thomas L. Dodge of Los Angeles in lining up the latter's campaign for the mayoralty of the metropolis. You who commute to the Angel City are going to see a whole lot of Dodge signs. And you can remember that Baum is a member of Glendale's Elk lodge.

Hugh Pomeroy is another resident of Glendale who is at Sacramento in the interests of sanitation district legal measures for Los Angeles county. He talks in millions of dollars as secretary of the Los Angeles Regional Planning Commission which is co-ordinating highways, parks, sanitation and what not in the loosely organized residential districts.

If I recollect rightly there are about 100 communities in Los Angeles county, of which less than thirty are incorporated and more than forty-five unincorporated centers have from 2000 to 75,000 population. The latter are dependent on the county for their government. That is expensive for the municipalities providing their own government for they have so improved within their corporate limits that valuations are higher than unincorporated areas, yet both pay county taxes. City governments, chambers of commerce and other civic organizations should consider this situation and see if some remedy cannot be found to equalize values.

Mineral Producers to Standardize Products

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 9.—Structural mineral producers and manufacturers will meet here January 26 and 27 with a view of organizing their industries to standardize sizes, prices, quality, etc., particularly in clay and marble. The meeting is called by the industrial mineral division of the Sacramento department of mines and mining.

The Southern Pacific railroad and the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, which jointly are conducting a mineral survey of the state, will have their representatives present to report progress.

Rum-Running Vessel Is Reported Aground

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—The second report in two days that a suspected rum-running vessel was believed to have foundered in Half Moon bay during the storm which raged along the coast around the Christmas holidays, was received here by Field Prohibition Director W. R. Paget. No one was reported to have been aboard.

On the Nation's Business

A SLEET storm snaps wires in New England; a blizzard fells a line of poles in the Western ranges; a flood overwhelms a valley community; a prairie cyclone sweeps away everything in its path;—wherever the emergency, men and materials are rushed to the spot in order that telephone service, vitally important at such a time, may be restored.

And the mending of every break restores to telephone users, everywhere in America, a particular path for the passage of his voice. Whether sudden calamity comes from an Atlantic gale or a Texas "twister," its damage must be repaired at once, because it cripples some part of a communications system that is nation-wide.

Because America has universal service, the telephone truck speeding to a scene of disaster is truly "on the nation's business," and the implements of its workers are weapons wielded in the nation's cause.

Young presiding. Senator Chamberlain of Los Angeles introduced eighteen bills for the strengthening of insurance laws. Senator Charles H. V. WOMAN TAKES OFFICE AS GOVERNOR

Mrs. Nellie Ross Becomes Wyoming's Leader In Simple Ceremony

By VIRGINIA GREY
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Jan. 9.—A woman is today governor of a sovereign state of the United States of America.

And ironical as it may seem, this woman, Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, governor of Wyoming, is a member of the one of those conservative southern families whose custom and tradition it is to place their women on a pedestal; to leave to them the delicate and gentle duties of adorning a home, being everlastingly lovely and always feminine.

As the widow of William Bedford Ross, whose death in October left the governorship vacant, Mrs. Ross was elected in November to fill the unexpired term of two years.

Tuesday Mrs. Ross, responding in a clear voice to the oath of office propounded to her by Chief Justice Potter, agreed to uphold the law and became a chief executive of the first state to enfranchise its women. A peculiar coincidence was that Justice Potter was a member of the legislature which originally granted women the vote.

The inaugural ceremonies were simple in the extreme. The senate chamber, a square room with narrow gallery above was crowded to the doors with state officials, citizens representing business and professions, army officers, federal court officials and others. On a front row seat at the side of the speaker's desk sat two of the young sons of the governor. George, 21, and Bradford, 14, healthy, tall, blonde boys with a love light in their eyes and pride radiating from their posture.

Accompanied by her brother, Justice Samuel G. Taylor, of San Antonio, Texas, Mrs. Ross entered the chamber preceded by Chief Justice Potter and the Right Rev. Nathaniel Thomas and Governor Frank Bucas. An attractive figure she made as for a moment she stood in the doorway. The audience which rose at her appearance saw a tall, slender woman, dressed in black crepe de chine, her fine, aristocratic face slightly shadowed by a black hat, the crown edged with black roses and a short veil falling to the waist behind. With this costume she wore suede slippers, black chiffon silk stockings and long black suede gloves.

Brief Address
Save for a moment when she stepped across the threshold of the anteroom into the audience chamber, which symbolized a passing from the old, sheltered home life into a life of public service and the glare of ceaseless publicity, Mrs. Ross did not falter. She bowed her head reverently when Bishop Thomas invoked divine guidance in her behalf; with a graceful bow she acknowledged the eulogy on her husband by Secretary of State Lucas and she stood like a Queen awaiting the placing of the crown on her brow and offer the scepter as the Chief Justice administered the oath.

In her address of acknowledgment, a model of brevity, Mrs. Ross read from manuscript and promised to do what in her power to justify the choice of the people and their faith and through a fearless and just administration of the affairs of the high office to which she had been called, to win honor for the women of Wyoming and the nation.

This done, Governor Nellie Taylor Ross stepped from the speaker's stand and her first official act was to gather her sons into her arms and give them a mother's kiss.

Southern Society Mad In Hunt for Treasure
ATLANTA, Ga., Jan. 9.—Society here has gone stark mad on treasure hunting, a fad imported from London. In the last several weeks, a dozen hunts have been held, bags of gold ranging up to $50 have been found. The police have made cases against the best known members of the younger set for smashing the speed laws, and one or two automobiles have been wrecked.

Old Year Meant Thrift To Penn State Region
PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—The past year was one of thrift in this section. Reports of 994 savings banks in this federal reserve district show savings of $1,064,939,000, an increase of 10 per cent over 1923. The increase in the number of depositors was greater, and the average savings was $402. These figures do not include the Christmas club funds, which totaled nearly $34,000,000.

Caste Problem Again Disturbs Hindu Calm
BOMBAY, Jan. 9.—Hindu leaders in session here today reaffirmed their support of the Hindurule that a member of one caste may not touch a member of a lower or higher caste. Gandhiji, the leader of passive resistance, was declared a heretic for his recent advocacy of abolition of the rule.

Northwest Finds Good Prospects for Future
ST. PAUL, Jan. 9.—The northwest is in a mighty healthy condition, compared with a year ago. There is more optimism expressed by local trade leaders than was the case in the boom years. For it is based on an exceptional recovery of business in the last six months and assured prospects for the next half year. Retailers wound up the year with a smaller volume of business than in 1923 but with the money value of their transactions practically equal to that of a year ago. Bank clearings here totaled $1,617,749,115 for the year, a decrease from 1923 of $187,473,820.

GIVE REPORTS ON WORK OF PAST YEAR

Residents of Northwestern Section Hold Meeting At Schoolhouse

Reports of standing committees of the Greater Northwest Improvement association on the year's work were given last night at the meeting in the Grand View school. The business year will end at the time of the meeting in February when new officers will be elected. Those making reports last night were Acting Chairman Cole on street right-of-ways; Chairman Gyger on public utilities corporations; Chairman Rochelle on postal service; and C. L. Jenkins on the forthcoming school bond election. Chairman Gyger outlined a plan which he said appeared to have the favorable support of city officials and heads of the Pacific Electric Co., for the lowering of the street car tracks on Glenoak boulevard. A city assessment of approximately $25,000 is scheduled to be levied against the Pacific Electric for street improvement work along Glenoak boulevard. Mr. Gyger pointed out. It is his plan to have this assessment reduced to a nominal sum if the railroad will in return agree to stand the cost of lowering the tracks. This cost will be from $35,000 to $45,000, it is estimated. It was pointed out that otherwise the track lowering expense would have to be borne by the property owners, if they would insist on its being undertaken. In turn the assessment paid from the Pacific Electric bill would be distributed among other property owners and ten years' time would be allowed for its payment.

Population Gains
Mr. Gyger told of efforts of his committee working in conjunction with the Chamber of Commerce to have telephones in the northwest section transferred from the Burbank to the Glendale exchange.

Mr. Rochelle, in his report on publicity, showed that at the present rate 1000 new families per year are locating in the northwest portion of Glendale. He predicted a great increase in population within the next few years. President Randall supplemented this report with additional figures on the growth of the Grand View district. He said that the population now is twice that of two years ago and four times as large as it was in 1921.

Sixty per cent of the building permits issued in Glendale during the past two years have been for residences in this section, he said. The membership of the improvement association has increased from six to 125 since its inception. Mr. Randall said, and continued with the prediction that it will boast 500 within the next year.

Aid School Bonds
The association will actively engage in campaigning for the school bonds, President Randall, Mr. Hayselden and George J. Lyons will act on a committee with Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, in promoting the bonds. The executive board of the association will lay plans for getting out a large favorable vote in the northwest section.

The association also voted to become a member of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce. The spirit of fair play and co-operation on the part of the chamber was lauded by several speakers. Director Arthur Campbell spoke in behalf of the chamber, assuring its support to the improvement body.

The proposed Burbank site for the new University of California Southern Branch, was endorsed and a telegram will be directed to A. W. Foster, secretary of the board of regents, advocating the acceptance of the site.

Peasants, which comprise one-fourth of the population of Poland, now control about two-thirds of the arable land there, while the landed-gentry, comprising one-hundredth of the population, has charge of one-third.

PLAN WIDENING OF ROAD FOR ATWATER

Improvement Work on Los Feliz Bridge At Northern Boundary of District And Highway Plans Decided

Work on the Los Feliz bridge across the Los Angeles river at the northern boundary of the Atwater district and the widening of the road in the vicinity of the new bridge will be completed within a period of 200 days, according to the present plan of the Los Angeles City Council.

Although the contract for the street paving has not as yet been let, it is believed the entire project can be completed in this amount of time. Business concerns along Los Feliz road have petitioned that the paving be done parcel at a time so that the entire street will not be torn up at one time as was the case of South Central avenue several weeks ago. It is hoped thus to keep the road open at all times. The north side of the boulevard will be widened approximately 15 feet while eight feet of new paving will be installed on the south side.

Report on Church Work

Encouraging reports on work of the past year were rendered at the meeting of the Women's Union of the Atwater Baptist church in the church parlors yesterday afternoon. Mrs. J. E. Noble, president of the union, presided at the meeting. Rev. A. B. DeRoos, converted Jew, who is conducting a series of lectures on "The Cross of Calvary as Seen by a Jew," told the church women of many interesting experiences during his missionary labors in Latin-America. Luncheon was served to a large number at noon. This was followed by the business session and the talk by Rev. DeRoos.

Officers of the union who made reports beside Mrs. Noble were: Mrs. F. R. Anderson, chairman of White Cross work and vice-president; Mrs. F. H. Chapman, secretary; Mrs. A. W. Steffans, chairman of visiting committee; Mrs. David MacArthur, neighbors' league; and Mrs. Elsie Biegert, treasurer. Meetings of the Women's Union are held at the church corner of Tyburn and Perita streets, on the first Thursday of each month.

Final Lecture Tonight

Rev. A. B. DeRoos will deliver the last of his lecture series at the Atwater Park Baptist church tonight at 7:30 o'clock. He will take as his topic, "My Change from Judaism to Christianity." Preparation for the largest attendance of Atwater residents of any night since the commencement of the series last Sunday night are being made. Rev. DeRoos, since becoming a Christian, has traveled extensively throughout the world as a missionary and conducting lecture courses.

Describes Indian Life

Miss Lulu Garton, missionary, spoke on India at the monthly meeting yesterday of the Missionary society of the Neighborhood Christian church, 3832 Edenhurst avenue, Atwater park. Mrs. Thompson, president of the society, conducted the session.

Growth of the Missionary society has been more than satisfactory since the church moved into its new building a short time ago, according to Rev. J. M. Utter, pastor. Thirty members are now enrolled. After the business session, a social hour was held and refreshments were served. Mrs. B. L. Emerson, secretary, gave a number of reports.

The topic of Rev. Utter's morning sermon Sunday will be "The Day We Celebrate." There will be services at night at 7:30 o'clock also.

Sunday School Expands

Progress in the Sunday school department at the Neighborhood Christian church, Atwater park, has been marked since the organization of the church. Full equipment for the kindergarten department, which has grown most remarkably, has been received. It consists of small chairs for the children and other necessary paraphernalia. Sunday school work in all departments is under the supervision of Prof. Harold Campbell, who was for 12 years a school principal in the east.

A double quartet choir is now in the process of formation at the church. Under Clayton S. Decker, a live and enthusiastic young people's class has been organized also.

Harold Kalp Injured
Harold Kalp of 3234 Casitas avenue, Atwater Park section of Los Angeles, is a patient at the Glendale hospital, with a fractured right leg. It is reported, as a result of being struck by a car driven by R. T. Shirley of 2913 Casitas avenue. The accident occurred at 9:15 o'clock last night, according to the records of the Glendale police department.

Continue Suit to Fix Railroad's Valuation

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—Pending decision on a motion to dismiss the case for lack of jurisdiction, the suit of the Salt Lake railroad filed in federal court to have the government enjoined from enforcing a valuation order and to have the valuation of $45,000,000 placed on the property removed, will be continued to be heard in the U. S. district court of appeals here.

The suit was filed against the government. Later the interstate commerce commission and the Western Union Telegraph Co. intervened as defendants.

It is the only action of its kind filed in the United States to enjoin establishment of a final valuation made by the interstate commerce commission under provisions of the La Follette act passed in 1913. A ruling of the U. S. supreme court is expected soon in an action brought by the Delaware & Hudson railroad to annul a tentative valuation fixed by the interstate commerce commission.

Second Chicago Mail Robbery Within Week

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Robbery of a second mail train of the Chicago & Northwestern railroad, closely following the rifling of the Omaha-Chicago train No. 17 Monday night, was disclosed late Thursday when postoffice inspectors began an investigation. Loot in the second robbery, which took place in the yards here on Tuesday, is reported to have been large, although local officials claim the loss of only $500 worth of parcels post shipments has been accounted for.

California Starts Off 1925 With Prosperity

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—California is starting 1925 with every indication of prosperity. Farmers have money and the general crop outlook is the best in years. Building activities are going forward at the same high rate which broke all records in 1924 in central and northern California. Hydro-electric companies plan to spend $50,000,000 in developments while railroad construction programs call for an outlay of $75,000,000.

WANTED!

Capable business man with from $5000 to $10,000 cash or collateral to aid in financing the continued expansion of a rapidly growing manufacturing and merchandising business in Glendale.

The man desired is one preferably over thirty years of age with a successful experience in sales management or business administration who must be quite capable of assuming responsibility and with the qualities of leadership well developed.

The industry inserting this advertisement is one which commenced operations on June 1st this year with one man, who without capital, friends or credit, and in spite of quiet times and the off season for his line, has in that short time evolved an incorporated industry doing business on a cash basis that now employs a permanent, ever-increasing payroll of thirty-four residents of Glendale.

This unusual record of growth and expansion has been accomplished without ostentatious advertising or promotion schemes and hot air, but, to the contrary, is the result of new, bright and intelligent merchandising ideas, several good formulas, manufacturing A-1 good goods, plus real service, co-operative effort and everlasting hard work throughout the organization.

The business is amply financed for present needs and can give references to satisfy the most exacting, including leading business houses in Los Angeles, as well as banks.

Having made a very satisfactory start in covering the whole of Southern California, this concern is preparing to open a branch in San Francisco on Feb. 1st, for the purpose of handling Northern California, besides which the foundations are being laid for the merchandising throughout the entire U. S. A. of a specialty which is having an immense local sale in California.

This necessarily brief advertisement opens the way for some intelligent man with abundance of ambition and initiative, plus an appetite for work, to secure a hard job involving plenty of toil and responsibility and offering as a reward a substantial interest in the early stages of what is speedily becoming an organization of magnitude and wealthy independence.

School Board Asks Chance For Bond Election,
Other Business

An effort will be made to provide a form of ballot at the forthcoming school bond election that will afford voters more secrecy at the meeting of the city Board of Education last night when Richardson D. White, superintendent of city schools, was authorized to confer with Edward T. Bishop, of Los Angeles county council, to see if some change can be made in the form of ballot provided, making it larger and less easily read by bystanders at the polling places. The meeting was held at the offices of the board, 107 1/2 South Brand boulevard, Mrs. A. Barton, president, presiding.

R. Ernest Tucker appeared before the board with a request for use of the Glendale Intermediate and Central school auditoriums for Community Service functions. The request was granted. Mrs. Barton and Mr. White were named a publicity committee of two, to co-operate with the publicity committee of the Glendale Union High school board, in working for success for the $2,400,000 bond issue to be voted on at the special election of February 10. This high school committee comprises H. W. Yarrick and George U. Moyle, principal of the Glendale Union High school.

Authority Given
Mr. White was authorized to make any appointment to the school staff that may be necessary, at the beginning of the next term, and to attend the national convention of the department of superintendence, N. E. A., which meets at Cincinnati, Ohio, February 22 to 27, inclusive.

John T. Cate, business manager, was authorized to make the necessary changes at the Wilson Intermediate and Acadia schools, to accommodate the influx of new pupils at the beginning of the next term.

The Glendale Union High school Board of Trustees met last night at the Broadway High school, President Albert D. Pearce presiding. Aside from adopting the resolution of intention to call a special school bond election on February 10, no action of importance was taken.

FIRE SIREN MULES AROUSE VILLAGE

Series of Short Blasts at Unusual Hour Thought Alarm; All Gather

CENTRAL SQUARE, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Can a mule be arrested on a technical charge of turning in a false alarm for the siren at the village firehouse?

A number of villagers were startled by a series of short blasts resembling a fog horn. Thinking it was the fire siren, they made a dash to the village department.

No fire could be discovered. The villagers pondered the matter and the question of a false alarm was discussed.

Ho-haw, he-haw, came an answer to their questioning. The air was rent with a violent, piercing sound resembling a whistle. Several said it was the fly brothers mill, two miles east, but a telephone communication disclosed that the mill whistle had not blown.

Again came the sound. This time the Malory wood mill was questioned concerning the noise, but denied authorship.

Mules Discovered
Then came the answer. John La Punk, employ of H. A. Dunham, local horse dealer, happened along and mentioned that his employer recently had purchased a pair of mules. The animals had been turned into the barnyard for water and the sound came when they began braying at the barn door for refuge from the cold.

The sound was so peculiar and so unlike the usual bray of a mule that a veterinary was summoned. After an examination was announced that both animals were minus several front teeth.

He expressed the opinion that the extraordinary noise came when the animals began braying, the suction of the air, combined with atmospheric conditions, turning the bray into a siren-like sound.

The matter was turned over to the village authorities, who will decide if the animals can be muzzled.

RUM WAR SEEN

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—A new war between rum-running gangs loomed today as the result of the murder of George Turner, asserted "king of Southern California bootleggers," and known to the authorities as one of the most prominent rum brokers in the Pacific coast trade, it was said today by officers investigating the case.

Pearl buttons are to be made at a new factory at Para, Brazil, which will be exempt from state taxes for five years and be given an allowance of one-half in export duties on manufactured products.

Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, in addressing Central Parent-Teacher association yesterday on the coming bond election, urged the parents of the northwest to ardently support the bonds, which, he said, would not only provide for additions to present school buildings in that section, but would also provide a high school and new intermediate school. Mrs. Alma J. Danford, Glendale librarian, was another speaker of the afternoon, talking informally on the guidance of children. She stated that vast experience with children and parents in her work had emphasized three points in training children: First, begin training in time; second, develop a sympathetic understanding, and third, be vitally concerned, but not nervously concerned, about the child's welfare.

R. Ernest Tucker also spoke at the meeting at Central school. Mrs. E. R. Ripley, president, was in charge of both the board and association meetings. A special board meeting is to be held Tuesday, at the home of Mrs. Weyands, 1104 North Central avenue, to complete plans for a food sale, January 24, at the Casa Verdugo drug store. There was much interest in the room count, which revealed a tie, Mrs. Emery's and Miss Perkins' rooms each having twenty-one mothers present. Palms and ferns, loaned by the Foothill nursery, were used in decoration. Mrs. Ripley stated that the P-T-A. had secured money for purchasing lumber for school benches, the construction of which was paid for by the city school system. Four members of the P-T-A. volunteered to use their automobiles next Monday to take the soccer team to the game at Glendale Intermediate school.

An invitation was received from Mrs. Arthur Franklin, president of Wilson Intermediate Parent-Teacher association, inviting mothers whose children will transfer at mid-term to join that association. Mrs. Roger Fitz, accompanied by Mrs. Ripley, sang "Knowest Thou That Fair Land?" from "Mignon" and "Trees." At the close of the afternoon tea was served.

Douglas Buckler, from the Hellman banks, Los Angeles, who recently gave such a splendid talk to the Glendale High School Parent-Teacher association on thrift and budgeting, came to Glendale again yesterday, to talk on the same subject before the Glendale Intermediate Parent-Teacher association. In addition to Mr. Buckler's talk, there was entertainment by Miss Arthur's B-I. Division 2. They gave songs, Dorothy Mitchell and George Hall, gave a duet, and others of the pupils gave a playlet. Of special interest was the review of Mrs. Hughes' book, "Thrift in the Household," given by Mrs. Anderson, teacher of domestic science. During the business hour later, Mrs. Mae Rosenberg, president, was in charge. Announcement was

NURSERY SECURES COSTLIEST TREE

Pecan Valued at $2500 to Be Used for Grafting Purposes Only

MONTICELLO, Fla., Jan. 9.—What is described as the world's highest-priced tree has been bought by a Monticello nursery from its grower in Kosciusko, Miss. The tree is a pecan and was purchased for purposes of grafting, by which some of the enormously productive qualities of the tree may be transferred to other plants. It has been bearing fruit nine years and produces pecans of such dimensions that only twenty-five of them are required to make a pound.

The nursery concern will strip the tree of all grafting parts and will use them for improving its stock.

In addition to paying $2500 for the tree, the concern has expended a like sum for an attorney to protect the firm's rights, so that the variety cannot be propagated for ten years from the time the tree is put on the market.

Santa Monica To Build Six-Story Apartments

SANTA MONICA, Jan. 9.—Plans have been completed and work is to begin soon on the construction of a six-story and basement class C store and apartment building at Santa Monica and Ocean boulevard. The structure will be of brick and will cost about $300,000.

Shoe Firm Shows Big Increase In Business

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 9.—Net sales of the International Shoe Co. for the fiscal year ending December 1 totalled $110,240,651. This was a net gain of $317,913 over the previous year despite a reduction in prices averaging 4 1/2 per cent.

Brookhart's Opponent Contests Senate Seat

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—A new contest against Senator Smith W. Brookhart, Republican of Iowa, was filed in the Senate by Luther A. Brewer, of Cedar Rapids, an independent Republican candidate for the seat, who retired in the midst of the November campaign.

In a campaign to remove the tax from theatres as is done with cabarets, one manager in London proposed to sell "food" in the guise of boxes of candy, possession of which would permit the purchaser to see a complete musical comedy.

VIOLIN PRODIGY DESPISES 'JAZZ'

German Youth Arrives to Study Music, Views on 'Noise' Expressed

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Roger Kahn, young son of Otto Kahn, the international banker, may be heart and soul in love with jazz music, but Isaac Briselli, a violin prodigy, says of jazz:

"It is a terrible lot of noise to have to listen to. I run from the room whenever I hear it played."

Isaac, twelve, arrived from Germany on the Hamburg-American liner Deutschland, to continue study which is being provided for him by Professor Carl Flesch, violinist at a Philadelphia conservatory of music. Flesch heard the lad play at Berlin and believes that when he has matured he will become the greatest violinist of the time.

But before the boy and his benefactor could continue to Philadelphia, Isaac was ordered to Ellis Island to conform with the immigration law. Rather than have his protegee go to Ellis Island alone, Flesch and Mrs. Flesch accompanied him.

Furniture Business 20 Percent Over Year Ago

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—The furniture industry in the middle western states is in a very satisfactory condition with orders 20 per cent over those of a year ago. Rate in production has been increased by most manufacturing concerns, an average of 79 per cent of normal in 1923 to 83 per cent of normal at present.

Newspaper advertising has taken a spurt in India, and American and English firms use a large amount of space in papers of Bombay.

VIENNA WARS ON 'TOM TOM' MUSIC

American Type of Melody Is Barred by Austrian Capital Council

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—Vienna, the queen city of women, wine and song and dance, has declared open war on jazz music and jazz bands. The Vienna city council has adopted an ordinance forbidding jazz bands at all dancing schools.

Since the days of Johann Strauss, the great composer known as the "waltz king," the Austrian capital has been the city of the dreamy waltz, and later the city of beautiful operettas motivated largely in waltz strains, whose king is Franz Lehár, of "Merry Widow" fame.

The modern fox-trot, tango and one-step have almost driven out the waltz. Vienna has more dancing schools than any city of its size in the world, and more than any of the other continental cities.

Jazz bands imported from America, with their "tom tom music," have gotten on the nerves of the Viennese. The dancing teachers held a conference and asked the city council to forbid jazz music in dancing schools, as an opening of their offensive against jazz.

The city council has followed the recommendation of the teachers, and now all dancing will be studied in Vienna to the softer strains of the violin, the mellow cello and the languorous thrum of the inimitable gypsy orchestra.

In the drive against betting in England it was disclosed that at one church young people wagered on the time taken by the vestryman in passing the collection box, and that of the choirboys had had pools on the length of the minister's sermon.

BURBANK BEATEN BY FLEAWEIGHTS

Midget Court Stars Defeat Visitors 24-0; Play El Monte Tonight

Playing a highly polished game at all times and running circles around their opponents Coach Harry Hick's class C casaba quintet easily put down the Burbank Midgets Wednesday, in a game played in the local gymnasium.

"Peevee" Reed, Alton Kovell, and Jerry Osier, who compose the fast local forward trio were responsible for eighteen of the twenty-four points made by the Glendale babes. Monte Killinger played a good game as running guard and succeeded in throwing one basket. "Cuke" Randall as stationary guard, kept the Burbank boys from within striking distance of the Red and Black hoop.

After the first team had registered twenty points in three quarters, Coach Hicks sent in the second squad which managed to swell the count to twenty-four. Sunderland, Church, Morgan and Wilson starred on the second team, Morgan tossing both baskets.

Play El Monte
The local fleaweights have been practicing only a little over a week and already have a smooth-working, fast outfit. It would not be surprising if they cleaned up the Central league with little opposition. "Peevee" Reed is developing into a real forward, fitting nicely into the trio of Reed, Lovell, and Osier, and being an accurate, reliable ring shooter.

Tonight at 7 o'clock the pennyweights mix with El Monte in another practice game. This scrap should be featured with some snappy playing and will be well worth seeing. No admission will be charged.

Chaplin's Separation Denied by Young Wife

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9.—Reports circulated in Hollywood that Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chaplin had separated were branded as false by Mrs. Chaplin and her mother, Mrs. Lillian Spicer, who denied that the movie star was living in an athletic club.

"Charlie is very busy on a new picture and works all day at the studio," said Mrs. Chaplin. "I know he's home with me every night and I think it's mean to circulate rumors that we are not happy together."

International Banker Named In Means Trial

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Gaston B. Means, former federal agent under $10,000 bail on a charge of conspiracy to obstruct justice, sprang a sensation at his trial before Federal Judge Walter Lindby by revealing that Frank A. Vanderbilt, international banker, had furnished bond for him. Means, whose testimony in the Teapot dome investigation was a feature of the oil scandal, said he persuaded Vanderbilt to approve his attorney, Abraham Menin, who said he needed more time to study the case.

In a court in London recently it was shown that after a couple attended an evangelistic meeting, the woman slept among the tombstones in a graveyard while her husband robbed a jewelry store.

STRANGLER LEWIS LOSES MAT TITLE

Grappler Injured In Match With Wayne 'Big' Munn At Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 9.—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, may never wrestle again as a result of injuries received last night when he lost his title to Wayne "Big" Munn, former University of Nebraska athlete.

Dr. Terry E. Lilly, who was with Lewis at St. Luke's hospital until 4 o'clock this morning, said the former champion has probably fractured two vertebrae at the base of the spine. Dr. Lilly said he would not make a definite statement as to Lewis' injuries until he had further examined the wrestler later this morning.

JOHN B. FOSTER'S VIEWS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925
NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The playing of numerous double headers is to be eliminated by the major leagues as much as possible from now on. The arguments of finance and of extra drain on players, long advanced, found extra force in the season of 1924.

The majors wished to shorten the season in 1924. Trying to bring it to a close by October 1, they had to stick in a lot of double headers and they found it did not pay them. On top of the artificial double headers were a number of natural ones, caused by postponements, and between them all, when it came down to the final days of the pennant hunt, the contending clubs found it an almost superhuman task to keep their pitching corps in order, while the other players were pretty well fagged by extra work.

Another argument against double headers is that teams which are not going so well toward the end of a season, are likely to play listlessly, thus giving advantage to the teams which happen to have double headers scheduled with them. To put an end to this condition, as much as to avoid the extra strain and the financial loss, the major league clubs are seeking to avoid double headers wherever possible.

One factor that may help in this direction is the new rule to be tried in 1925 by the National league which provides that double headers may be played on the first home series if it is thought advisable to do so. That was the custom at one time. Then a rule was adopted which prohibited the practice. This rule was made necessary because some of the owners were suspected of taking advantage of a few drops of rain to make double headers necessary.

Necessarily the old rule put double headers over to the second or third visit of a club, and if it rained on the second visit, it might make all the games of the third series double headers. It has happened that there have been as many as five and six games on the last round of a club in a certain city and the National league in particular wishes to put an end to that condition, which has caused some criticism of their championship struggles.

Objection has been made to carrying baseball too far into October because it might interfere with the football season, but the objection does not amount to much, since baseball fans as a rule are not strong supporters of football. Most of the football crowd is a college crowd. The baseball crowd is more cosmopolitan.

There are evidences that the minors, as well as the majors, are working toward the idea of less double headers, having found that it cheapens the sport to have one double header after another.

B. W. Sloan Withdraws From Glendale Agency

B. W. Sloan, formerly head of B. W. Sloan, Inc., 905 South Brand boulevard, Willys-Knight and Overland dealers, has withdrawn entirely from the company. A complete reorganization has taken place under H. H. Murray, president of the concern, and the business is now handled under factory branch direction. E. B. Dunn has been appointed sales manager and supervisor of service with B. T. Wheeler, a former factory man, as service manager.

Mr. Murray has also announced a startling reduction in the price of Overlands and many new features are embodied in the models now being displayed. Overland has also announced an Overland six. According to advance information this will eclipse anything on the market in the six class and at a price less than some four sell for.

LAWRENCE PERRY SAYS

Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Paavo Nurmi is expected to decide today upon his future plans. If he leaves the United States without giving track fans of other cities and other sections of the country a view in action of the greatest distance runner the world has seen since times were first recorded it will prove he is as impervious to emotion inwardly as outwardly he would appear to be.

But it is greatly to be doubted that even this stoical young Finn could have failed deep down in him to have been moved by the spontaneous roar of acclaim that marked his victory over the former world's indoor champion in the mile event in the Garden last Tuesday night. It began when the Finn went after Joie Ray, immediately the mark had been passed on the next to the last lap. Wing into the lead before the first turn had been reached, Nurmi increased his advantage foot by foot over the desperately running Chicagoan until at the finish he had left the former champion at least ten yards astern.

He had to break the world's record to do this, but the world's record was what he was after and from the easy stride and the apparent lack of physical effort one wonders what he will do to the indoor mile when he has grown more accustomed to the board track conditions and the indoor atmosphere.

But what he may do in the future was not occupying the minds of those who saw him Tuesday night—the greatest thing that ever attended an indoor track event, with half as many more outside—trying vainly to purchase admission to a sold out house. What he was doing was the great thing and it seemed literally as though the enthusiasm that attended his winning course on that great last lap had sufficient volume to blow him to victory upon the wings to it.

And when he broke the tape and sprang lightly from the track the outcry attained hurricane force. Nurmi stared straight up at the rocketing multitude, his face as imperturbable as ever was the lineament of Finnie Forbear when staring down the salt sea gale. With never a change in expression, never a gesture, he strode out of the arena to his dressing room.

Then ninety minutes later he came out and broke another world's record, lowering Joie Ray's old mark for the five thousand meters. This event had been conceded to the Finn by most of the sharps, although there were those who thought the great Willis Ritola would profit by Nurmi's record-breaking performance in the mile. But he didn't.

Where does Nurmi get all his speed and all his stamina? In the first place as contrasted, for instance, with Joie Ray, he does not run altogether upon his toes. At every stride his heel taps the floor—first, of course—and he wears heels upon his running shoes. The touch of the heel is just a touch, no more. And it affords him a certain instantaneous flash of rest every step.

Then he runs straight, whereas our runners were forward. Thus Nurmi was carrying no weight. He used a long leg stride even up on the boards, quite contrary to Ray's pattering stride. Yet all possible speed is there. It was a wonderful performance. He is a champion of champions.

Nurmi had been doing 4.19 in his practice dashes on the local indoor tracks at times when he apparently was out to see what he could do. Thus word was abroad among the insiders that Ray would take him in the mile. And Ray was expected to do no more than 4.17. As it turned out Nurmi was snuffing the clockers and if Ray had not been in the best form of his career he would have sustained by far the worst beating he ever received since he took to the boards.

The first appearance of the Finn in this country was marked by sights and sounds unprecedented in track annals indoors or out. Every seat was occupied and men and women stood ten deep at every available point of vantage. Outside the garden loitered hundreds who, unable to get inside the building, remained out in the cold as though loath to quit the scene.

Inside, the multitude, swimming in the pallid glare of the great electric clusters, gazed down upon the dully painted track and inhaled with emotions as tense and enthusiasm as vociferous as any crowd that ever jammed this old building to witness champion pugs, from John L. Sullivan down to Dempsey, perform their prodigious fistic feats. And this is saying a great deal.

The sport of indoor track and field attained its apogee in New York city on Tuesday night. And a mighty king was crowned.

RISK NO TITLES IN BOXING BOUTS

Expect Plenty of Fighting
Tonight When Sextet
Climb Into Ring

By SID MERCER
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Trial boxing has become so encrusted with the old championship humbug lately that it is a distinct relief to chronicle the fact that no titles are involved in tonight's fist-clouting at Madison Square Garden. It really looks as if there would be some fights this evening.

After some of the alleged title fights that have been inflicted on the populace lately it is pertinent to inquire at any box office: "Is this a championship match, or will there be some fighting?"

There will be no "appreciation" about the three ten-round specials at the garden tonight. The principals are all well known, but they claim no titles.

Topping the card are Jack Bernstein and Tommy O'Brien. The other two numbers will show four good youngsters in the bantamweight division. The semi-final will feature Harold Smith of Chicago and Jackie Snyder of Brooklyn. Nat Pincus, a graduate from the six-round class, goes over the longer route with Bushey Graham.

Smith Back Again
Here are three shindies that should all be good. Any time you put ambitious youths up against each other they fight.

Smith is making a heated appearance at the garden. He made his debut there a year ago last October and defeated Danny Lee, then a leading bantamweight contender. Smith pleased the customers with his unique style and was signed for other fights. Then he developed a bad knee and laid up for eight months. He has made a fresh start, and with five fights under his belt, is ready once more to bid for metropolitan favor.

Jackie Snyder is no set-up for Smith. Snyder defeated all comers until he bumped into Cannon Ball Martin last summer and even then he went the route. He had never been floored until Bushey Graham turned the trick at the Queensberry club. Snyder has been resting up and should be good tonight.

Graham is substituting for Bud Taylor, the Terrific Flash, against Pincus. He took the engagement on short notice and arrived from Utica only yesterday. Bushey has a pleasing style that is distinctly his own. He is a blooming bouncer, but when he drops his arches he can hit.

IF RHEUMATIC EAT NO SWEETS

Says Glass of Salts Helps to Overcome Rheumatism Acid

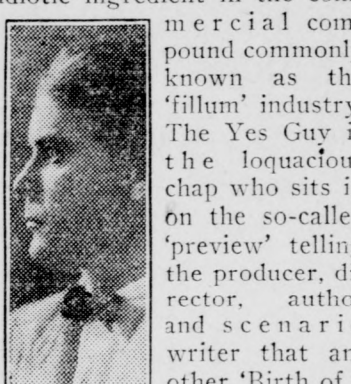

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states a well-known authority. We are advised to dress warmly, keep the feet dry, avoid exposure, and above all, drink plenty of good water and avoid eating sweets of all kinds. Rheumatism is caused by body waste and acids resulting from food fermentation. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this poison from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly cold weather the skin pores are closed, thus forcing the kidneys to do double work; they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this waste and acids, which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles, causing stiffness, soreness and pain, called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about our ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is helpful to neutralize acidity, remove waste matter, also to stimulate the kidneys, thus often ridding the blood of rheumatic poison. Jad Salts is inexpensive, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. SPORTDOM ALL OVER

By JOSEPH L. KELLEY
Of The Evening News Staff.

The 'Yes Guys' form an interesting as well as supremely idiotic ingredient in the commercial

Joseph L. Kelley

compound commonly known as the 'fillum' industry. The 'Yes Guys' are the loquacious chap who sits in on the so-called 'preview' telling the producer, director, author and scenario writer that another 'Birth of a Nation' is flashing before their eyes. Yes Guys are as numerous in fillum industry as roaches in a north Main street one-armed restaurant. A man who can say NO and mean it is about as welcome around a motion picture studio as Emma Goldman would be at Ellis Island. Right or wrong? Yes, 'em, is the keynote in fillumland.

If an assistant director should inadvertently give birth to an idea while his Lord and Master, Mr. Director was yelling his guts loose through a megaphone at some rabbit-brained female trying to act natural, and accidentally passes the idea on to Mr. Director showing him where he's wrong, Mr. Assistant Director is ostracized from fillum society. Thereafter he's about as welcome around that studio as a well-advanced case of leprosy would be.

'Me and God' is motto of all directors and producers. That 'Divine Right of Kings' motto of the ex-Kaiser was as harmless propaganda as 'Mother Goose' rhymes compared to motto of fillum industry.

They're never wrong. If you don't believe it try and tell 'em their wrong. Try them on an original idea if you're not touchy about making exit through back door in a hurry.

Every worker in motion picture studio is afraid fellow working along side of him is going to get his job away from him. That's the reason why it isn't advisable for any one worker to show evidence of ordinary intelligence.

For instance there is one and only one way of registering improper advances in boudoir scenes—show close-up of mustached villain's hand turning key in door on inside.

Charlie Chaplin tried to get this bit of subtlety over in a nice way by showing the villain enter the heroine's room while she was out and taking a handkerchief from one of the dresser drawers in his 'A Woman of Paris.' Censors said it was too 'raw' and ordered it cut out in some of our progressive states. It never had been done before, therefore it wasn't good photodramatic ethics.

What harm the producers don't do the censors do. Within the past few days New York decided censors were all wrong and passed bill to abolish board. New York found that censors couldn't show movie industry anything it didn't already know.

There are a lot of useless committees and boards appointed in America but censor board is most useless of all. With one look censor board can undo and throw to dogs what it has cost screen producer thousands of dollars to create and days to make.

The general public is the best director of its morals. A film that is immoral doesn't get very far, censor or no censor as witness the picture made a few years ago featuring the Italian guide who figured so prominently in the famous Stillman divorce case.

We were in Chicago at the time this picture, the title of which we have forgotten, was highly exploited and came on the heels of one of the most sensational divorce cases the country ever has known. Some enterprising exhibitor in Chicago's Loop district thought picture would go big in the West Madison street district. Even Chicago's underworld refused to patronize the theater.

Censors never are going to be able to show the picture industry where it is wrong. It is going to take the brains of the many unknown authors who haven't been tainted with commercialism in their art—those writers who see something else in this life besides midnight cabarets and hurrahs.

It is the height of uselessness for a board of censors to sit in judgment over a work that has taken weeks to create and thousands of dollars to make and tell a producer what he should have done. That doesn't get the public or the producer anywhere.

If you're going to reform man or beast, get at the origin of the mistake; don't tell him he's wrong after he has committed wrong. That's why the BERKELEY, Jan. 9.—Five lettermen of last year's conference champions and a large number of new men are working out here with the University of California basketball squad under the direction of Clarence "Nibs" Price, who is serving his first season as varsity coach.

Price, who is assistant football coach for the Golden Bears, was formerly freshman hoop coach. He is introducing a new system which will fit the light but speedy material which composes his squad.

The 1925 team will not carry the weight or great hindrance endurance which marked the California quintets of the past three years. The graduation of Johnny Tait, Andrew Kincaid and "Hap" Huovonin has left the Bears with a light bunch of men. Belasco and Higgins are the only huskies on the first team at the present time.

The veterans around whom Price is building his team are Captain Sammy Ladar, Benny Holman, Bill Higgins, Harold Belasco and Vernon Carver.

From the freshmen squad Price has Robie, Watson and Feather. Other men who will probably make the first string are George Dixon, brother of Jimmy, the football star, and Clement, who was on the varsity squad last season. The new California coach will carry three complete teams all season. He intends to spend much time with the third five, which will be made up of sophomores, who will be developed for the future.

Price has introduced his football reasoning into basketball, and will use both the long and short passing game. He says such a system will crack any defense, as a line-plunging and forward-passing game will open up the line of an opposing football eleven.

The California coach is also paying a great deal of attention to football work. He desires his five to keep its feet all the time and move about the floor gracefully.

The Golden Bear schedule is quite unsatisfactory, with Stanford being its only opponent in the southern section of the conference. The break between U. S. C. and Stanford eliminates the meeting of the Trojans with either the Cards or Bears.

According to an announcement by R. A. Cortelyou, graduate manager at California, neither team will play the Trojans, which leaves U. S. C., who is a member of the conference, out of the race as far as basketball is concerned. It belongs in the southern section and cannot get games with the northern teams.

California will have a great scoring machine. Every man on the first team is a good shot, and price's system should give them plenty of opportunity to get inside the foul line for close shots. Sammy Ladar should be the Blue and Gold star. Sammy came to fame in the Stanford contest last year, when he was sent in to guard Ernie Nevers, the Stanford giant. Nevers had been running wild all season and Ladar held him scoreless while his teammates trounced the Redshirts.

Ladar will play forward with Holmes. Higgins is the center, while Carver and Belasco hold down the guard jobs. Belasco will do the running work, with Carver guarding the hole. Dixon is showing well, and will get his chance in the conference games if he continues the good work.

Price will use the five-man defense and is specializing the formations which he hopes to see in breaking through the stiff defensive wall that Andy Kerr builds up with his Stanford team.

Paavo Nurmi Resumes Training for Track

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Paavo Nurmi went back into light training today for his next appearance, in the municipal games at Madison Square Garden, January 15. He refuses to be made a hero as a result of his record-smashing indoor debut here. Offers from a motion picture company, which wished to make slow-motion pictures of the famous runner in action, and from a sculptor, who wanted him to pose, were refused.

detective has a lot to do with the working out of the story.

In the character of Jean Oliver, Glendale people make the acquaintance of Mary Worth, a new member of the Players, whose vivacious personality, clever history, and ability and utter abandon in the part of the girl who had "served time" and was bent on revenge, give rise to the hope that she will be seen in future productions. Then there is Richard Elmers, who creates a character in Limpy Jim, Madame Mysteria's assistant, that wins for him added laurels in characterization. He sustains his character portrayal from first to last curtain. His make-up is finely done. William H. Stephens is another of the popular Players appearing in "The Hole in the Wall." In every Dobinson play Mr. Stephens finds opportunity to display his ability as an actor and in the part of Deacon, from the Near East, he is versatile in his double portrayal of the Oriental and one of the "gang."

Joseph McMann's part of Gordon Grant, a reporter-detective, adds much to the interest of the play. Mr. McMann really lives the role assigned to him, and in the present mystery play, his part seems to be a happy one, both for him, and his fellow players and friends. Olaf Hytten joins the Dobinsons for the play, giving a splendid characterization of Danny MacKeever, alias "The Fox." Danny is a thief, he has served his time, but he is a gentleman, even to spats, gloves and cane. He does particularly fine work, when he professes his love to Jean but accepts defeat when he learns that she does not love him.

Local Residents Appear
Chief inspector of police is William Chapman, a Glendale resident; Harry J. Glaser, another Glendale man; Nichols, the chief of the Glendale man, Nichols, the chief of Mrs. Andrew Ramsay, who brought punishment on Jean Oliver; Mildred Evelyn, Cora Thompson, a thief; Fanna Ralstin, Margaret Lyons, a client; all doing admirable work and lending fine support to the leads.

The fine musical program arranged by Gladys H. Lott is another feature that provided pleasure for the Dobinson theatre goers. Tonight will be "Tuesday Afternoon Club Night," the club realizing a percentage of the box office receipts. According to reports, the show has been a large sale of tickets.

Before the end of the run "The Hole in the Wall" will undoubtedly be the most popular play given at the club theatre, drawing audiences not only from Glendale, but other cities of the southland, proving that, although Glendale is not a theatre-going city, nevertheless there is a prodigious in Glendale drama of the highest type.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The talked of Gibbons-Firpo match in London has fallen through even before it got to the stage where it amounted to anything. There has been no official announcement to this effect but the words of Eddie Kane, that he stands aghast at the smallness of the bid for the services of his heavyweight leaves nothing more to be said.

Out in Newark, fired by the battle between Mickey Walker and Mike McTigue, an enthusiastic son of the old sod who holds himself as a bit of a historian, traces back the ancestry of the two Mikes and succeeded in making of this battle not a contest between two pugilists but a battle between the blood of Brian Boru and Rodrick O'Connor the last of the Irish Kings.

McTigue, sings the Chronicle, comes from the County Clare, home of the famous Dalaohills, one of Ireland's mightiest warriors and while Michael is no blood kin to that famous old bird he is descended from old Brian Boru who drove the Danes out of Ireland, mind ye.

And Walker's mother is from Connaught, a descendant of the ancient O'Connors. No one had any idea that the best blood in Ireland was engaged in this fist combat.

EAGLE ROCK, Jan. 9.—Charles C. Reynolds of Caspar avenue has one of the most unique clocks in the world. Though very small, it is said to keep accurate time. It is made of bronze and contains the following verses entitled "The Voice of the Clock," inscribed on its door in minute letters:

Soon I'll say good-bye to a friend most dear, For I've learned to love you, And have never stopped, since the whistles blew And the cheers went up to welcome you.

Eight thousand seven hundred and sixty hours, Like golden drops In summer showers, And myriads of minutes I've measured for you, Into parts as perfect as drops of dew.

Soon the stars in their courses together will sing And I'll sing the mantle that you will fling Back over the New Year, while you speed on To an endless one through a golden dawn.

Then, listening back, you'll catch the blend Of the chiming, as they ring while you ascend. For, at midnight, I'll strike And I'll strike six strokes For the New Year, too.

tion through prejudice or thought of personal gain.

Questioned by R. Belcher as to his stand on "closed" council sessions, referred to as "meeting of the committee of the whole," Mr. Randall said: "I would expect a council on which I served to be operated on a strictly business basis and on such a basis I can see no reason for any closed or secret sessions."

Neither Mr. Randall nor Mr. Hayselden announced definitely their decision to run, although it is generally believed they will consent to enter the race, now threatening to become one of the most hotly contested in the city's history.

From the enthusiastic endorsement of candidates for the City Council the meeting last night drifted to a prolonged discussion of the flood control question in Glendale. Why the proposed Sycamore Canyon tunnel should not be built was told in a stormy appeal by Mr. Belcher, who said he spoke for the Southeast Glendale Improvement association. Some of those who did not agree with Mr. Belcher in a number of his statements were President Randall, Director Arthur Campbell of the Chamber of Commerce, E. D. Kinchell, an officer of the improvement association, Vice President Gyger and others.

Complete Inquiry
T. A. Rucker, member of the flood control committee of the Southeast Glendale Improvement association, the committee of which Mr. Belcher is chairman, only partially agreed with the latter. He said the property owners of the southeast did not want the water dumped upon them, but they demanded adequate protection in the form of a small conduit, even though the Sycamore tunnel is built. Mr. Belcher had declared the people of his section wanted the water themselves and were opposed to its being carried away through the Verdugo wash.

Mr. Hayselden, who is chairman of the flood control committee of the Chamber of Commerce, outlined plans of his body for a thorough investigation of the two proposed projects which will commence within several days, he said. The relative advantages and benefits of each project will be considered by the fifteen members of his committee, including three prominent engineers, he declared.

Mrs. A. L. Bancroft also displayed a pewter platter, once the property of George Washington. Rare old china and silver spoons dating from the Revolutionary war, were brought by Mrs. Carrie Campbell. A feature was the singing of old songs by Miss Hazel Campbell, including the quaint "O' Genevieve" of years ago, and "The Exhibition Fair," the latter a song that was composed especially to be sung during the first fair ever held in California, in the early '50s. Miss Ruth Goldsborough was accompanist.

Previous to the program, Mrs. Campbell conducted a business meeting. Mrs. S. E. Brown, treasurer, reported on finances for year; Mrs. Morgan reported on activity of the auxiliary of the Children's hospital, saying a salvage drive would open January 19, in which the H-Y boys would assist in collecting. Mrs. Campbell gave a short report of the Christmas cheer sent to the disabled veterans by the clubs of Glendale.

Shower Is Planned
Announcement was made that a fruit and jelly shower for the benefit of the Children's hospital would be a feature of the business meeting of the club to be held January 15, at the Tropic Presbyterian church. Mrs. Campbell also announced that Mrs. Charles H. Toll, district president, would be the speaker at the next social meeting, Thursday, February 5.

Refreshments of hot doughnuts and coffee were served by a committee composed of Mrs. F. B. Storer assisted by Mrs. F. A. Archer, Mrs. S. D. Vantine and Miss Hazel Campbell. The doughnuts had been made, while the meeting was in progress, by Mrs. E. J. COMMITTEE LAYS ASIDE NAVY BILL

Question to Be Brought Up At Coming Session by Rep. Fred Britten

secretary of the navy. They show the weakness of our naval defenses and how far the navy has been permitted to fall below its treaty strength."

To Teach Aviation
Views of Britten were shared by Congressman McClintic, Democrat, of Oklahoma.

"It's all over for the present," he said. The question of bringing the navy up to its full authorized strength is laid aside until the next session. At that time I shall press for a more enlightened development of the naval air service and require that the science of aviation be taught at the Annapolis naval academy. I was content to develop the fact that there is not a single officer skilled in aviation now on the general naval board which directs the navy. The naval air service is destined to become one of the most important branches of our naval defense."

Further disclosures on the condition of the navy were made today, when the Senate appropriations committee made public testimony given by Wilbur when the navy appropriation bill for 1925-26 was under consideration.

Wilbur told the Senate committee that the modernization of four battleships would be necessary to bring the United States navy up to the strength authorized by the Washington armament conference.

Outlines Ratios

Admiral E. W. Eberle, chief of naval operations, testified that the equal ratio with Great Britain could be regained by the United States through the conversion of four coal-burning ships to oil burners, but that in the field of aircraft carriers and light cruisers this country would still be far behind, although leading in the number of destroyers and submarines.

Eberle gave the existing ratios as follows: For Great Britain, the United States and Japan: Aircraft carriers, 5-1-4; light cruisers, 5-1-3; destroyers, 5-7-3, and submarines, 5-7-6.

Despite the disparity in ratios, Secretary of the Navy Wilbur declared the "navy has never been in better condition than it is today."

"I think that in marksmanship, in ordnance equipment, both torpedo, turret and anti-aircraft guns and in airplanes, the navy has kept abreast of the times," testified Wilbur.

Has Optimistic Views
"I believe that we have ships that are as good as any in the world, and they are manned by officers and men the equal of any, and we would have no hesitation in meeting any fleet in the world in battle, with certain limitations."

"Concerning the modernization of our battleships, if we equip the ships with a blister, which is really an outside skin, with watertight compartments, and strengthen the deck armor, and change from coal to oil burners, it will make the ships more efficient, and particularly will strengthen their defense against attack."

"I feel that, with the orderly changes which we are requesting and will request, there is no reason in the world why we should not have a navy the equal of that of any other nation."

"On behalf of the Oakmont Country club, I desire to thank you for the support and co-operation of The News during the year 1924. I appreciate this more in view of the fact that the club is not an advertising corporation, and there were no direct financial returns to you for any publicity given."

tions. Incidentally, it is a move that is not being attempted in any other community by Republican clubs.

Voters to Resent Action
All of which was made plain at the meeting of the executive committee of the Glendale Republican club yesterday afternoon. Also, it was indicated that seventy-five of Glendale, who are Republicans, would resent any move to drag them into politics that the state primary law provides shall be non-partisan and that the local Republican club would have no standing with the national, state and county Republican organizations should it, as an organization, enter into non-partisan politics.

Resolutions favoring the participation by the club in non-partisan politics received the votes of R. S. Person, president of the club; T. D. Watson, J. W. Everington, W. H. Richards and H. V. Adams. Those opposed were J. C. Sherer, A. T. Cowan, H. M. Butts and Mrs. A. H. Montgomery.

Following the action of the executive committee, Mr. Person today issued a call for a meeting of the Glendale Republican club, as follows:

"To All Members of the Glendale Republican Club:—There will be a meeting of the Glendale Republican club in the council chamber of the City Hall, 619 East Broadway, Thursday night, January 15, at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of (1) receiving the report of the committee on rules and bylaws, and (2) receiving a report from the executive committee and taking such action thereon as may be deemed advisable."

"The report of the executive committee, which will be under consideration, is in the form of resolutions as follows: "Whereas, Within the past five years the population of the city of Glendale has increased with unparalleled rapidity and the boundaries of our city limits have been greatly extended; and

"Whereas, This great growth in population and expansion of territory have imposed on our city government onerous and extensive duties, and taxes for a multiplicity of purposes in many instances have become burdensome; and

"Whereas, Large numbers of our citizens are not only inadequately informed on matters pertaining to local government, but find it difficult or even impossible with the time and means at their command to obtain an intelligent and comprehensive understanding of matters of local interest vitally affecting their general welfare; and

"Whereas, The Glendale Republican club is an organization concerned in the promotion of honest, efficient and economical government in the interest of the entire community; therefore be it

"Resolved, That it is the sense of the executive committee of said club that there should be created at an early date a select committee on municipal affairs composed of not less than seven members of the club, for the purpose of giving attention to the subjects of taxation for all purposes and in whatever form or manner levied, assessed or collected; receipts and disbursements of public moneys from whatsoever sources derived and for whatsoever purposes expended; and to consider broadly the subject of the administration of local municipal and county affairs; and the said committee shall have authority to call to its aid in the performance of its duties, any of the members or committees of this club and, in its discretion, to invite co-operation from any person, club, society, association or political party, to the end that honest, efficient and economical administration of our city and county affairs may be promoted by and have the intelligent support of all of our citizens regardless of their political, social or religious affiliations; that said committee may, upon authority granted by this club in specific cases, employ experts in accountancy, trades or professions, clerical help, or legal counsel; and be it further

"Resolved, That it shall be the duty of the said committee to seek and obtain information regarding candidates for office and other subjects within its jurisdiction and report from time to time the results of its inquiries, investigations and activities to this club which it shall be at all times answerable."

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, be presented to the club at its next meeting with recommendation that they be approved by the club as an expression of its policy."

Burglars Take Radio Parts In Night Visit

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Antunez, 632 North Louise street, returned home last night to find the front door open and burglars in the house. They entered as the thieves made their escape by the rear. Mr. Antunez at once called the Glendale police department and Sergeant C. P. Blake made the investigation. Among the articles stolen were three parts of a radio set, it is reported. A pile of radio apparatus and other articles was found ready to be carried off.

The home of Dick Michel, 1117 Sonora avenue, was burglarized last night, a number of household articles being taken. Entrance was gained through a bedroom window, the police report. Alfred Morris and Dean Brown report four rabbits and a litter of young stolen last night from 910 East Windsor road. Perry Thomas, negro, who gave his residence as Detroit, Mich., was arrested last night, charged with stealing a blanket. He is being held at Glendale police headquarters.

Boy Scouts to Compete In Swim Pool Meeting

Troop 7 of the Boy Scouts will go to Pasadena tonight with A. G. Wheeler, deputy scout commissioner, where they will engage in swimming contests at the Y. M. C. A. pool.

tion of its purpose and policy in local politics, and that the appointment of a committee as herein prepared be duly authorized."

"Only members of the club will take part in the deliberations of the meeting. This will be a very important session and a full attendance of members is earnestly desired."

"R. S. PERSON,
"President, Glendale Republican Club."

Evening News Protests
When it was first revealed that an effort would be made to drag the Republican club into local politics, contrary to the state primary law, the following statement appeared in The Glendale Evening News:

"Several weeks ago when the Glendale Republican club was organized in this community, the publisher of The Glendale Evening News became a member of that club. He did so, believing that the principles of the Republican party in national politics expressed his views more definitely than the principles expressed by any other party. He is pleased to remain an active member of the Republican club thus organized in Glendale, so far as the purpose of such club is for the consideration of national and state politics, but when it comes to injecting into the party the idea of its participating in local politics, the publisher of The Glendale Evening News wishes to be released from all obligations in connection with local political affairs which are manipulated by any political party, club, lodge, church, school or any organization whatsoever. The election of municipal officers should entirely be in the hands of the people. The best men should be presented and supported, regardless of what political party, religious denomination or fraternal organization they may belong."

"A. T. COWAN, Publisher."

Stand s Not Changed
The publisher of The Glendale Evening News has no reason to change from that position, which was published in these columns on Wednesday, December 17, 1924. The sugar-coated set of resolutions adopted yesterday by a vote of five to four by the executive committee, boiled down into a paragraph, means:

The Glendale Republican club will, if permitted, use the name "Republican" in participation in local politics.

All of which is contrary to the state primary law, contrary to rules of national, state and county Republican organization, contrary to non-partisan government and contrary to fair play.

So the publisher of The Glendale Evening News again goes on record as being opposed to such methods. Also, there is every reason to believe that the thousands of Republican voters in Glendale will not endorse the policy as proposed by the majority of the executive committee and will resent the plan to use the name "Republican" in non-partisan politics.

COMMUNITY DRIVE REPORT IS GIVEN

Collections Total $16,250
With $2,794 Still

The audit report of receipts and disbursements for 1924 by the Glendale Community Chest was made public today by R. F. Kitterman, treasurer. The report was submitted by Olin & Hutchinson, auditors and accountants, and covers the period from November 21, 1923, to December 18, 1924.

Reckless Drivers Pay Fine as Guilt Shown

J. C. Bybee of 1262 South Brand boulevard and E. K. Muller of Los Angeles, were fined $250 each this morning by Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court, on reckless driving charges. Both paid their fines and were released on two-year probation. Muller was arrested December 29 and Bybee December 30, the testimony revealed.

Emilio Ramelli, arrested December 21 on a charge of transporting liquor, and whose premises at 624 West Elk avenue were raided, and a "still" discovered, was cited to the Los Angeles superior court by Judge Lowe, and bail fixed at $500. The charge on which he was heard this morning was manufacturing intoxicants. Ramelli previously paid fines of $500 each on two liquor counts, the Glendale police court records showed.

Daniel Orano, charged with burglarizing the Raymond market on North San Fernando road, was bound over to the superior court, and his bail fixed at $500 cash.

Glendalians Leave on Duck Hunt In Valley

Members of standing committees for 1925 will be named tonight at the meeting of Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion. The meeting will be held at the Legion hall, 610 East Broadway, and will mark the beginning of the year's business under the new commander. The post's membership drive, to last one week, will be launched tonight, it was announced today by Adjutant E. E. McWain.

The legionnaires will be asked to determine the policy for future meetings. The proposed schedule is: First Fridays of each month, business meeting; second Friday of each month, visiting post nights; third Friday of each month, initiation of new members; fourth Friday of each month, joint meeting with auxiliary of post. For Improvements

The $2,400,000 school bond election was set last night for Tuesday, February 10. This action was taken by the adoption, at separate meetings of the Glendale Union High School Board of Trustees and the city Board of Education, of a resolution of intention to hold the election on that date.

The vote to adopt was unanimous in both cases. The high school board met at the Broadway high school, President Albert D.
Pearce presiding, and trustees Dr.
Harry W. Brown, clerk, and H.
W. Yarik and George H. Bentley present. A. W. Tower was the only member absent. There were in attendance, also, George U.
Morse, principal, and Irving H.
Oliver, business manager, of the Glendale Union High school.

The city board met at its offices, 107 1/2 South Brand boulevard, Mrs. A. A. Barton, president, presiding, and all the members present: Harry W. Chase, secretary; D. J. Hibben, E. H.
Learned and Mrs. A. C. Brown.
There were in attendance, also,
Richardson D. White, superintendent, and John T. Cate, business manager, of city schools.

Text of Resolution

The resolution of intention adopted last night by both boards was prepared by Edward T. Bishop, Los Angeles county council.
It follows in part:

"Resolved, That it is, in the judgment of this board, advisable to call an election and submit to the electors of this school district the question whether bonds of said district shall be issued and sold for the purpose hereinafter specified; and it is, therefore, ordered that, in accordance with the provisions of the political code of the state of California, an election shall be held on the 10th day of February, 1925, at polling places named in the hereinafter described precincts in this school district, between the hours of 8
a. m. and 8 p. m., at which election the question of issuing and selling bonds of said district to the amount of $1,200,000 (one million two hundred thousand dollars) for the purpose of purchasing school lots; for the purpose of building or purchasing one or more school buildings or making alterations or additions to any school building or buildings; for repairing, restoring or rebuilding any school building damaged, injured or destroyed by fire or other public calamity; for insuring school buildings; for supplying school buildings with furniture or necessary apparatus; for improving school grounds; for liquidating any indebtedness already incurred for said purpose; for refunding any valid outstanding indebtedness of said district, evidenced by bonds or warrants thereof, shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said district and be voted upon."

Polling Places

The resolution of intention goes on to say that the bonds are to be in denominations of $1000 each, numbered from 1 to 1200, and are to bear interest at 5 per cent per annum. There are to be seven precincts, the resolution sets forth, and the polling places in these precincts are to be as follows: Precinct No. 1, Glendale Intermediate school; Precinct No.

Precinct No. 4, Columbus school;
Precinct No. 5, Central school; Precinct No. 6, Grand View school; Precinct No. 7, garage, 2715 Hermita drive.

There will be one inspector at each polling place, the resolution sets forth, and this inspector will answer for both boards. There will be at each polling place, in addition, two judges for the Glendale Union High school district and two judges for the Glendale city school district.

Each qualified elector of the districts will be eligible to vote at the election, the resolution states. All electors who have registered since January 1, 1924, and prior to 9 o'clock Saturday night, January 10, 1925, will be qualified. For the convenience of those who have not yet registered at the election, the resolution states that the polls will be kept open at 333 North Brand boulevard, between the hours of 8 o'clock in the morning and 9 o'clock at night, today and tomorrow.

Both boards last night put their names to two copies of the resolution of intention, one copy of which goes back to the office of Edward T. Bishop, Los Angeles county council. The boards also signed notices of the school bond election and notices of appointment of election officers.

The first official publication of the documents calling the election is set for January 19. Publication will be made once a week

Judge Lowe Sets Fine For W. French at $400

W. E. French of 1116 South San Fernando road was sentenced yesterday afternoon by Judge Frank H. Lowe of the Glendale police court to pay a fine of $400 or spend 400 days in the Los Angeles county jail. The sentence came after the jury, in a re-trial, had returned a verdict of guilty on a count of possessing alcoholic liquor on October 18, 1924. The first trial, on November 18, resulted in the jury being unable to agree on a verdict.

Leslie R. Tarr, city prosecutor, sprung a surprise on Attorney George H. King for the defense, when he waived his opening argument. Attorney King, compelled to fire the first legal gun, then presented his argument, after which Prosecutor Tarr summed up.

Witnesses for the prosecution were Chief John D. Fraser and Lieutenant W. J. Royle of the Glendale police department, Sergeant C. P. Blake, Officers W. Welshans, W. J. Walton and Frances R. Stowell. Witnesses for the defense were Homer Roberts, James Huffle and W. H. Cobb.

BIGGEST CHECK TURNED OVER TO NATION

War Finance Body Draws $499,000,000 Paper for U. S. Treasury

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Special Correspondent of The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The largest check ever drawn in the financial history of the world—at least nobody in the treasury department here remembers hearing of anything bigger—has just been deposited in the government archives.

It amounts to $499,000,000 and was paid to the treasury by the War Finance Corporation after one of the most amazing financial operations in the history of the United States government. Congress had authorized $500,000,000 to be used as capital stock for the war finance corporation which was to give financial support to industries necessary or contributory to the prosecution of the war. Later on it was authorized to make advances to the extent of one billion dollars to American exporters and to American banking institutions. This authority was exercised until the corporation's activities were suspended in May, 1920, and the corporation was not revived until after a considerable controversy and over the veto of President Wilson.

Altogether the corporation has made advances since its beginning of about $690,000,000 half of which was under its war powers, and the remainder for agricultural and livestock purposes. Of the aggregate amount advanced, only $62,623,000 is outstanding as loans. This means that the war finance corporation not only will have received back the $500,000,000 worth of capital stock it had but will earn in addition more than $62,000,000.

Uncle Sam Benefits
This is, however, not a profit but simply the return to the government of a sum equivalent to the interest cost. In other words if the government could have used the same $500,000,000 to pay off the public debt, the interest charges which the treasury has to pay on that amount of liberty bonds for a certain period would have been saved. Actually the entire $500,000,000 was rarely in use at one time and in recent years the amount that the treasury has had to advance has grown smaller and smaller.

So, all in all, the government liquidates with not only every cent of capital stock assured but with a fair return on its investment. The outstanding loans are all declared to be good and they more than cover the interest on the government funds.

Banker Credited
Mr. Meyer himself is one of the few wartime officials who has stayed on to give his services to the government. Being financially independent himself he is beholden to no one and is as sure-footed a financier as the government has ever had. He is known to have had the absolute confidence of the late President Harding and holds an equally confidential relation to President Coolidge.

Substitute Found
The impression prevailing now is that private institutions like the Agricultural Credit Corporation recently organized in the northwest with capital from New York and other cities will be able to function in place of the war finance corporation.

The work of the corporation from now on will be one of collection and liquidation and has been left with a capital stock of $1,000,000 to conduct its operations.

Mr. Meyer's term expires on March 14 next and it would not be surprising if he were drafted by the government for some other great financial enterprise either in connection with the settlement of allied debts or some other special task of economic or financial importance.

C. W. INGLEDUE RE-NAMED AS CIVIC HEAD

Advancement Association In Annual Meeting; Kinch
Is Vice-President

C. W. Ingledue was re-elected president of the Glendale Advancement association at the annual meeting held last night at 106 South Glendale avenue. S. C. Kinch, a member of the City Planning commission, was chosen vice-president. Herman Nelson was re-elected secretary and R. E. Spicer was named treasurer to succeed Dr. H. R. Harrower.

Mr. Ingledue's name was placed before the meeting by R. M. Brown and despite the protest of Mr. Ingledue he was unanimously elected. Mr. Nelson nominated Mr. Kinch for the vice presidency and Charles Stuart nominated R. M. Brown for the same office. Charles Stanley nominated Mr. Nelson for re-election as secretary and Mr. Kinch nominated Mr. Spicer as treasurer.

In outlining plans for the coming year, President Ingledue suggested that the association endeavor to bring about an amalgamation with other similar associations, and Mr. Kinch, A. B. Heacock and W. E. Mercer were named members of a committee to see if the East Colorado Boulevard Improvement association would merge with the Advancement association. Other organizations will be visited later and the merger idea presented, it was announced.

Some of the accomplishments of the association during 1924, as enumerated by President Ingledue, are: Paving of Glendale avenue, lights on Glendale avenue, lights on East Broadway, electrification of the line on Glendale avenue, improvement of Forest avenue, defeat of the civic center bond project, the starting of the new six-story hotel at Glendale avenue and Broadway, and the founding of a weekly newspaper devoted to the interests of the east side. For these things the Advancement association takes credit, President Ingledue said.

The association pledged its support to Burbank in its attempt to secure the University of California, southern branch, after Mr. Kinch had explained the question of securing a site, and presented a resolution. T. W. Watson was named head of a committee to look after the interests of the east side during the coming industrial survey.

Evening News Thanked
The association thanked a motion picture to instruct Secretary Nelson to express the thanks of the members to The Glendale Evening News for the support and publicity given the organization during the past year. The motion was presented by Charles Stuart. J. F. Chandler volunteered to collect all outstanding dues and was
